

Guns Stilled In 3-Year Korean War

Ask Yourself If Armistice Is Best Solution

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Today—just in case things go sour later on—is a good time to ask yourself where you stand on a Korean truce in July 1953.

Five years from now, because of what has happened by then, you may be saying: "We should have tried to whip the Chinese in 1953. There never should have been an armistice."

You'd have the benefit of hindsight then. All you know now is that a truce may turn out well for this country or it may be the starting point of a series of communist successes and American disasters.

Vague Hope For Future

A truce stops the killing—temporarily, anyway. Increased war against China might lead to world war, or so it seems now. It certainly would cost more in men and resources.

So the two main reasons for a cease-fire are an end to the killing and a vague hope for the future. The Eisenhower and Truman administrations were both willing to take a chance on it.

There were some practical considerations, as well as the moral compulsion to save lives, in seeking a truce and, in the respite following, to seek peaceful solutions of world problems.

It is out of such a moral reservoir—a conviction that they had taken every reasonable and humane course to avoid war—that the American people can find strength and fury for a big war if it comes.

Tragic Mistake?

There is a grim possibility, of course, that, through Communist expansion short of war and a breakup in the alliances between the United States and its friends, this country might never again be as strong as it is now for waging world war.

Should history show this truce was a tragic mistake by the Eisenhower and Truman administrations, both, no doubt, will get blamed for it. There is already pessimism in this country about the value of the truce.

But—if you had to decide whether to get a truce now or try to smash the red Chinese—what would you do?

Prosecutors Approve Probation Camp Idea At Mackinac Island

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—Michigan's Legislature will be asked next year to provide probation camps where first offenders and parole violators can be sent.

The state's prosecutors voted at their annual meeting Saturday to ask that funds be provided to build and staff such camps.

Earlier Circuit Judge Earl G. Pugsley of Hart told the prosecutors that jurists have to send many young men to prison "because we don't know what else to do with them."

"There is a legal twilight," the judge added, "in which a judge is torn between keeping a defendant in society or sending him to prison."

Peace In World Not Achieved Yet, Eisenhower Warns

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower hailed the Korean truce signing Sunday night with a prayer of thanksgiving but solemnly declared "We have won an armistice on a single battlefield—not peace in the world."

"We may not relax our guard nor cease our quest," he said in a nationwide television and radio address an hour after the truce was sealed at Panmunjom, ending the 37 months' war.

Glad It's Over

A few moments before he went on the air from the White House, the President—a happy smile on his face—made a remark which undoubtedly was being echoed by hundreds of thousands of other parents all over America.

"I'm glad this war is over," he said quietly, "and I hope my son is coming home soon."

His son, Army Maj. John Eisenhower, has been on active duty in Korea since last July. The only break in his service was a brief return to the United States came when he traveled to Washington to attend his father's inauguration.

In his TV-radio address over all networks, the President started by saying:

"Tonight we greet, with prayers of thanksgiving, the official news that an armistice was signed almost an hour ago in Korea."

His Campaign Pledge

Peace in Korea has been the President's main objective. He pledged during the campaign he would work unceasingly for it. He traveled to the battlefield shortly after he was elected in November in an effort to find a way to end the hostilities.

Speaking from a prepared text he seemed to know partly by heart, the President talked in solemn tones throughout the broadcast, which lasted just over five minutes. The text was hand-lettered on large cards placed before him.

Eisenhower said that for the United States the cost of repelling aggression in Korea has been high.

"In thousands of homes it has been incalculable," he added. "It

Short Creek, Ariz. Polygamy Colony Broken Up In Raid

By JAMES CARY

SHORT CREEK, ARIZ. (AP)—The multiple families of polygamists Short Creek were split asunder today by the wrath of Arizona.

The state hurled a united task force of 102 officers at the little settlement before dawn Sunday and took into custody 33 men, 50 women and 263 children.

It thus launched a supreme effort to wipe out forever a deep-rooted colony of polygamists that has operated near the Utah border for 20 years.

Girls Forced To Wed

Gov. Howard Pyle called the cult "the foulest conspiracy you could possibly imagine." He said girls of under 15 years of age were forced into marriages with men of all ages.

Half a dozen of these pigtails brides were arrested along with the older mates of the Short Creek patriarchs.

The adults were charged with nearly a dozen different offenses, including statutory rape, bigamy, open and notorious cohabitation.

Clardy Receives Clergy's Praise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Clardy (R-Mich) disclosed today a letter of commendation from a clergyman for the manner in which the House Un-American Activities Committee has been operating.

Clardy, a member of the committee, told reporters it was "somewhat of a relief" to receive the letter since "my committee has been so violently and unjustly attacked so many times."

The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Episcopal bishop of Michigan, wrote to assure Clardy of his cooperation "since in the past few years I have found myself violently opposed to the actions of Mr. McCarthy."

"From all I have heard and read of your investigations," the bishop wrote, "I approve of the spirit, the method, the fairness, and the reserve with which they are conducted."

The churchman made no other comment about "Mr. McCarthy," Wisconsin Republican who heads the Senate Investigations Subcommittee.

Payrolls At Peak

DETROIT (AP)—Employment in General Motors plants around the world set a new high mark in the April-June quarter with an average of 575,978 men and women. Payrolls totaled $708,000,000. The previous high was $44,806 set in the first quarter of this year.

Soldiers Sweat Out Last Night As Truce Comes

By JOHN RANDOLPH

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea (AP)—I had promised Item Company I would bring them a bottle of whiskey the minute that agreement was reached on the armistice.

They didn't see me coming until the last 20 yards on the steep and muddy hill northeast of Kumhwa.

Under my arm, like a football, I was carrying the fifth of 100-proof bond, wrapped safely in a dirty GI khaki towel.

No Kidding

Sgt. Ippolito spotted me floundering and gasping up the final slope. He looked a long moment—then he started to yell, his voice breaking with excitement.

"He's got it! He's got the bottle! It's an armistice, by God—they've got an armistice!"

Helmeted heads craned out of bunkers and foxholes and dirty bearded faces turned my way and Ippolito ran down the slopes to meet me.

A horrible suspicion of doubt crossed his face and he stopped short.

"You wouldn't kid us, would you? It's true, ain't it?"

"I wouldn't kid you," I said. "It's true. It's official. The U. N. Command this afternoon announced an armistice had been agreed upon. They sign it tomorrow at 10 a. m. The cease-fire is 12 hours later—10 p. m. tomorrow."

Another and deeper shadow crossed Ippolito's face.

"Tonight . . . You mean we got to sweat out tonight . . . Jesus Christ, I hope we make it." Then he shoved the awful fear out of his mind, brightened again and shouted:

"The lieutenant! Lieutenant! They got an armistice—he brought the bottle just like he said."

The others were crowding around now, maybe a dozen of them, and I was escorted to the muddy hole covered with logs that

War Costs U. S. Lives Of 22,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—What did the Korean War cost the United States?

More than 22,000 dead on the battlefield, part of a 140,000 casualty total.

More than 15 billion dollars to help pay for over 1,125,000 tons of artillery ammunition; over 1,800,000 bullets and grenades; 800 tanks and 40,000 trucks used up in battle; more than two million shells for naval guns; hundreds of thousands of tons of bombs.

It triggered a general rearmament program for which the government has spent to date over 101 billion dollars.

On the day the war started—June 25, 1950—the United States had under arms 1,460,000 men in the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force. Less than half a dozen Army divisions were manned and equipped to a point where they were ready for battle.

Today the military manpower counts up to about 3½ million, although it is being trimmed some under the economy program. The Army has 20 divisions.

Sleeping Giant Takes Second Life Of Year

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—Hamden's Sleeping Giant has claimed its second life this year. The Sleeping Giant, a range of hills with a contour resembling a prone human form, has many cliffs to lure the adventurous.

Saturday afternoon 16-year-old Thomas Beck of Bridgeport undertook to climb to the "Giant's Head," starting his ascent from the floor of an abandoned trap rock quarry. When within 20 feet of the top of the 200-foot cliff, the boy slipped, plummeting to the rocks below.

Less than three months ago a Princeton student, John K. Ewing, 19, of Berwyn, Pa., died on a Sleeping Giant cliff when a falling rock hit his head.

Stone Mountain police said the man, waving a white shirt and calling for help, was first seen about 8 p. m. halfway up the almost sheer wall of the 1,100-foot mountain of granite.

President of Cuba Crushes Revolt; 54 Persons Killed

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—President Fulgencio Batista slapped martial law over Cuba today after crushing an attack by some 230 armed rebels on two army posts in Eastern Cuba. Fifty-four persons were reported killed, including 35 of the attackers, 18 soldiers and a police sergeant. The government accused President Carlos Prío Socarras, ousted by Batista in March, 1952, of responsibility for the attacks Sunday. The rebels were reported as hoping to launch a revolution to oust Batista.

Agreement Reached To End Milwaukee 74-Day Beer Strike

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Leaders of Local 9 of the CIO United Brewery Workers Union and six Milwaukee breweries reached an agreement Sunday night in a 74-day old strike which had cut off 15 per cent of the nation's beer production.

Karl Feller of Cincinnati, the union's international president, said the strike will not be over, however, until Local 9 membership approves the settlement. The striking members of the local are expected to vote on ratification at a mass meeting Tuesday.

Terms Not Revealed

The local's bargaining committee said it would recommend acceptance.

Terms of the agreement were not disclosed but James C. Paradise, attorney for the union said they make provision for each one of the union's basic demands—a substantial wage increase, a comprehensive health and welfare plan, pensions and a reduction in hours of work.

The union struck at Blatz, Pabst, Schlitz, Miller, Independent and Gettleman breweries for a work week of 35 hours with the same pay as the present 40-hour week, plus a wage boost of 25 cents an hour. The 35-hour week proved to be the major issue.

Under the present contract, bottling house workers received $80 and brew house workers $82.

Big Peace Task Ahead For UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly will meet three weeks from today to tackle the next big hurdle in the Korean problem—setting up the special political conference.

The conference provided for in the armistice agreement must meet within 90 days. Its chief job will be to try to transform the armistice into a permanent peace. Just what subjects will come up remain to be decided.

The 60-nation General Assembly will determine which nations will have a seat at the conference and will fix the time and place it will meet. Some delegates want the Assembly to work out the conference agenda too, but others have indicated they want to leave that to the conference itself.

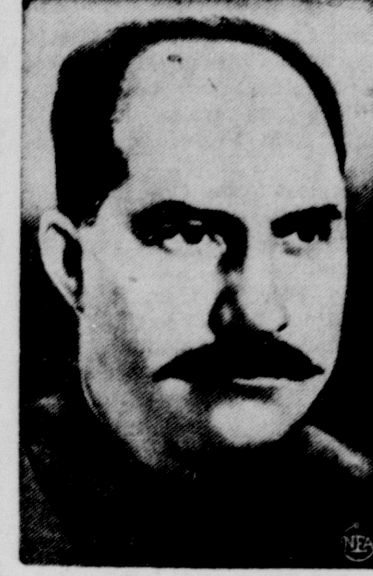

The call for the Assembly meeting on Aug. 17 went out quickly to members Sunday night, but Assembly President Lester B. Pearson of Canada and other leaders thought it best to allow ample time for private consultations before the formal meetings begin.

No Trial; Driver Dead

EAST HAMPTON, Conn. (AP)—Frank Gleixner, 16, was arrested here May 16 on a charge of operating an unregistered vehicle, and arrested again in nearby Portland July 4 on a charge of speeding.

He was scheduled for trial here tonight and in Portland Wednesday night, but he won't appear in either court.

He's dead. His car failed to round a curve on a road here Sunday and crashed into a tree.

ON WAY OUT?—Lazar Kaganovich, a deputy premier in the Soviet Union, is reported on his way out as a member of the Presidium of the Central Committee. His dismissal would leave four vacancies on the Presidium, the seat of power in the U.S.S.R. He is the father-in-law of the late Premier Josef Stalin.

Nervous Truce Takes Over Fighting Front

By FORREST EDWARDS

SEOUL (AP)—Shooting stopped along the Korean battlefield at 10 p. m. tonight (7 a. m. Monday CST), bringing to an abrupt halt 37 months of death and destruction.

While ground fighting was all but nil the final hours, mounting Communist artillery fire took its toll of Allied soldiers up to the last minute.

At 10 p. m., a hush fell over the front.

The last man to die may never be named. Nor, perhaps will the last hero.

The front, usually aflame at this hour of night, just grew dark. Men heaved sighs of relief, but with great caution.

As the clock ticked off the seconds, they grew more brave.

The last reported barrage—the final one of the Korean War on the Central Front—lifted at 9:43 p. m.

The fighting there, at least, ended in silence.

Pay Raise Given To Oil Workers

DENVER (AP)—The CIO Oil

Workers International Union announced today it has reached agreements with nearly all major oil companies with which it has contracts for a four per cent general wage increase.

The only exception is the Sinclair Oil Corp. and its subsidiaries, the union said. Negotiations with Sinclair are scheduled for July 29 in New York City.

The four per cent increase will average about nine cents an hour per employee, a union spokesman said.

Among the companies involved are Socony-Vacuum, Gulf, Shell, Texas Co., Richfield, Pure, several Standard companies and subsidiaries, Phillips, Union Oil, Tide Water Associated, Continental, Atlantic and some smaller firms. The union said the increase is comparable to those previously won by CIO Steelworkers and Auto Workers.

Needless Deaths

Allied artillery boomed back trying to silence the guns.

Even as the shooting ended, litter jeeps and ambulances wound down dusty hill trails from outposts, bringing moaning, broken men to rear hospitals.

Randolph reported that between 6 a. m. and 9 p. m., a U. S. division east of Kumhwa had been hit by 3,000 rounds of Chinese artillery.

Elsewhere on the 150-mile front, anxious silence, shattered only by sporadic shelling or machine gun bursts, fell over the bunkers and trenches, where troops awaited the cease-fire.

Both armies are to pull back 1½ miles within 72 hours, forming a 2½-mile buffer zone.

The diplomats then take over in an attempt to bring lasting peace to this war-torn land.

During the last hours, 5th Air Force, Marine and carrier-based planes unloaded bombs on Red troops and supply concentrations in the Kumson Bulge sector.

The Reds will get to keep the few miles won at a staggering cost in human life. A map released by the U. N. Command after the armistice signing showed the Reds were given almost all the Kumson Bulge, plus some other ridges and outposts whose names became famous because of bitter fighting for their control.

Ridges Won In Blood

Finger Ridge . . . Heartbreak Ridge, scene of some of the war's bitterest fighting . . . Old Baldy . . . all went to the Communists.

The war has claimed more than 1½ million in dead, wounded and missing.

Front-line reports said American patrols went out only on defensive scouting missions, shooting only after the Reds fired first.

Still, knowing the armistice was to be signed, the Reds sent two Chinese companies—300 to 400 men—against the slopes of a South Korean outpost south of Lookout Mountain about midnight Sunday. The Reds were beaten off the Eastern front hill position

Students Return From Music Camp

Three Escanaba young people returned today from National Music Camp at Interlochen where they have spent the past two weeks as students.

They are Catherine and William E. Harrison, daughter and son of Dr. and Mrs. William C. Harrison, 403 S. Seventh St., and Sara Dunathan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Dunathan, 620 S. 12th St.

The three were members of the 120-piece all-state orchestra which presented a concert Sunday afternoon at the close of the two-week session. The Harrisons and Dunathans attended the concert.

Miss Dunathan attended the National Music Camp as the recipient of a scholarship presented by the University of Michigan Alumni Club.

HURLEY—Toivo E. Wiitala, of Bessemer Township, was electrocuted at 2 Friday morning when he reportedly touched a broken power line on Granite St. between Fifth and Sixth avenues in Hurley during the height of the severe electrical and rain storm.

Members of the Hurley Fire and Police Departments who were on the scene said Wiitala, a bystander, touched the wire after being warned not to go near it. Officials of the Lake Superior District Power Co. said their preliminary investigation indicated that the line carrying 2,300 volts had been broken by lightning.

IRON MOUNTAIN—Household furnishings and equipment valued at about $900 was removed some time during the week from the former Ginsberg farm, on county trunk line "N" between Florence and Commonwealth.

The missing articles were owned by Albert Prentice, of Columbus, Wis., who rented the property for a goat farm.

Prentice, after closing a deal for the use of the property, drove to Florence with a truckload of furniture, dishes, clothes and tools, which he unloaded and left in the locked house.

He returned to Columbus for another load of furniture and when he returned found that the house had been entered and everything stored there removed.

IRON RIVER—Some 75 postal employees in the Upper Peninsula will gather in Iron River on August 1-2 for the annual convention of the U. P. Association of Letter Carriers, a branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers. Larry Hartley and George Murray, veteran mailmen connected with the Iron River postoffice, are co-chairmen of arrangements for the convention.

L'ANSE—While surveying near Charles Lake in Baraga County recently, Louis F. Smith, Conservation Department lands examiner, found a tree blaze mark made by his father half a century ago.

Smith said the blaze mark, located on the corner of a section he was checking, read "F. Smith, August 11, 1903." He said the last numeral was very faint and may have been a "2", but that the remainder of the blaze was readable.

The elder Smith had been a timber cruiser for an early logging company.

Law Officers To Discuss Method Of Halting Bingo

Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapekis today said he will call law enforcement officers of Delta County into meeting "as soon as possible" to discuss the most effective method of halting bingo games in the county.

The officers will hear a report from the prosecuting attorney on the recent action taken by Michigan prosecutors in meeting at Mackinac Island to stand by Michigan law and ban bingo in their counties until such time as the voters decide to change the law.

"I want to receive the comments of the local officers on the best way of enforcement before further steps are taken in Delta County," said Prosecutor Chapekis.

Against State, City Law

The prosecutor said the following law officers will be expected to attend:

Safety Director Glen S. Leonard of Escanaba, Police Chief Torvald Kallerson of Gladstone, Sheriff William E. Miron, and State Police of the Gladstone detachment.

Sheriff Miron is attending a sheriff's convention at Marquette and the meeting will be held when he is available here, the prosecutor added.

Charity bingo as it is played in Escanaba is also prohibited under city ordinance, the prosecutor noted. Therefore the violation is both against city and state law. One purpose of the meeting of local law enforcement officers will be to determine what course the city proposes to pursue and to make enforcement uniform.

May Ask Compliance

The prosecutor said that in his opinion a most effective method would be to notify local organizations sponsoring bingo games that they are operating illegally. This Investigation in Michigan, will be the principal speaker for the annual convention of the Michigan Sheriffs' Association to be held here next week.

The convention will open Monday morning, July 27, and will continue through three program-packed days, being climaxed by a banquet at 7 p. m., Wednesday evening, July 29 in the Elks Temple, West Washington Street. Subject of McIntire's talk will be "New Federal Laws And Their Relations To Sheriffs' Duties."

MUNISING—City and state police and FBI officers are conducting an investigation of the burglarizing of the People's State Bank Building, which occurred here early yesterday.

The building was entered through a rear hallway door, which was not locked, and although entrance was gained into the bank proper, a preliminary survey indicated nothing was stolen there.

About $500 in cash and some personal articles, such as compasses, rings, etc., were stolen, however, from the office of Circuit Judge R. W. Nebel, on the second floor of the building.

60 Years of Steady Service

Fred R. Hoyler Rites Tuesday

Funeral services for Fred R. Hoyler, 62, of 315 Ogden ave., prominent Escanaba business man who died unexpectedly Saturday of a heart attack, will be held at 2 p. m., Tuesday from St. Stephen Episcopal church.

The Rev. Joseph Dickson, church rector, will officiate and burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

A life-long resident of Escanaba, Mr. Hoyler was born here Sept. 17, 1890. He attended Escanaba High School and later was employed by his father in a bakery. He also worked at the Chicago and North Western Freight office.

In 1914 Hoyler assumed management of the bakery shop. He was president of the Hoyler and Baur Baking company until his retirement in 1944.

The deceased was a member of St. Stephen Episcopal church, where he was a vestryman for 10 years. He also was a member of the Cloverleaf American Legion Post and Masonic Blue Lodge No. 195.

During World War I, Hoyler served in the U. S. Army quartermaster corps at Camp Custer, Mich. He entered service Aug. 26, 1918.

He leaves his wife, the former Helen Jepson; a son, Richard of Escanaba; a daughter, Mrs. George W. (Virginia) Rusch of Schenectady, N. Y.; a sister, Mrs. Mark Anderson of Fargo, N. D.; a brother, Louis Hoyler of Escanaba, and three grandchildren.

The body is in state at Alo Funeral Home.

Three Canadians Are Injured Here

Melvin Heintz, 12, of St. Catharines, Ont., Can., was admitted to St. Francis Hospital Saturday morning following an accident on US-241 near Hyde.

The Heintz boy, who was traveling with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heintz, has a severe laceration of the right elbow.

His mother was treated at the hospital here for an injured knee and his father for minor chest injuries. Both Mr. and Mrs. Heintz were dismissed Saturday.

One Is Hurt, Truck Damaged Saturday

A Rapid River driver received minor injuries and a Canadian truck received between two and three hundred dollars damage in two highway accidents early Saturday morning, according to Michigan State Police.

Ray La Fond, Rapid River Rte. 1, lost control of his car Saturday morning at 4:30 on US-41 north of Rapid River. The car ran off the road and into a ditch and rolled over. La Fond's right temple was lacerated and he received chest bruises. He told troopers he intended to consult a doctor.

The second accident happened at 5:30 a. m. just outside Bark River when Alvin Osborne of Sarnia, Ont., driving east on US-2, saw a truck without lights stalled on the highway in the opposite lane. Confused, he applied his brakes, police said, and went off US-2 onto County Road B-20, out of control, he told state police. His truck jackknifed and knocked over a light pole on B-20.

Osborne was not hurt. Troopers estimated damage to his truck at between two and three hundred dollars.

Hospital

Mrs. Karl E. Gray, 810 Lake Shore Drive, was released Saturday from St. Francis Hospital, where she had been under treatment since Wednesday for a broken ankle. Mrs. Gray will be confined to her home about six weeks. Arthur LeClaire, 407 S. 13th St., was dismissed yesterday from St. Francis Hospital. He is now recuperating at his home.

Although bacteria can reproduce very rapidly, such reproduction usually is curtailed in a short time because the acid byproducts of such multiplication hamper its continuance.

Tree Spraying Is Completed Here; Start On Alleys

Tree spraying in Escanaba cost about 5½ cents per tree, City Forester Bob Clayton said today.

Total cost of spraying Escanaba's 7,000 street trees was about $400, he said. The project began July 14 and was completed Friday.

The city forestry department used 16,000 gallons of water, 150 pounds of parathion and 40 gallons of 25 per cent DDT in spraying the trees for eradication of aphids.

These parasites produce honeydew, a gummy substance which has been dropping on cars. The DDT was added for mosquito control.

A total of 395 blocks in the city were sprayed.

Alley spraying for insect control was to start this afternoon. DDT and Lindane will be used.

City Forester Clayton anticipates the alley spraying will be completed Friday.

FLAPPERS. FUN and the ROARING 20's

Clara Bow was Hollywood's "It" girl. Texas Guinan was a queen, even in pants. There were the Ziegfeld girls, the Vanities and John "Hamlet" Barrymore. Atlantic City's first bathing-beauty pageant introduced skin-tight swim suits and bare arms and legs. Women drank next to men in speakeasies. On the dance floor, anything went; and Ted Lewis shouted, "Is everybody happy?"

These were the Roaring 20's, recreated in 16 pages of revealing pictures and colorful text in the current issue of CORONET. Young and old alike will live again the brashness, loudest, craziest era in American history. You won't want to miss...

Two Injured In Sunday Crashes

The sheriff's department Sunday investigated a pair of traffic accidents in which two persons were injured and four vehicles damaged.

John Schout, 19, Escanaba Rte. 1, and Roy H. Olson, 48, of 218 1/2 N. 10th St., both taken to St. Francis Hospital Sunday after Schout's auto and Olson's panel truck collided on M-35 about four miles south of Escanaba, were reported in good condition by the hospital this morning. Schout suffered a head injury and Olson a chest injury, the sheriff's department said.

Schout was driving his car south on M-35 when Olson, coming north, went over the center-line and hit Schout, sheriff's men said.

Damage to the left side and front of Schout's 1948 coupe was estimated at $800 by the sheriff's department. Damage to the left front of Olson's panel truck was estimated at $300.

Marianne Baron, Gladstone Rte. 1, a passenger in Schout's car, was not hurt.

In an accident Sunday morning at 1, cars driven by Henry LaFave, 23, of Escanaba Rte. 1, and Donald J. Mathews, 16, 323 S. 19th St., collided at the intersection of County Roads 533 and 414 one mile east of Riverview. No one was hurt.

Mathews, the sheriff's department said, was driving on Co. Rd. 414. As he made a right turn on to Co. Rd. 533 he struck LaFave's car on its left side. Mathews did not have his car under control and was on the wrong side of the road when he hit LaFave, the sheriff's department reported.

Damage to LaFave's automobile was estimated at $300, damage to Mathews' car at $50.

Helen LaFave was a passenger in LaFave's car, and Dick Ferrari and Jerry McMartin were passengers in Mathews car.

Patrick McCarthy Claimed By Death Here Saturday

Patrick E. McCarthy, 70, of 702 S. 16th St., died at 3:30 p. m., Saturday at his home. He had been in ill health since 1921.

McCarthy was born Mar. 10, 1883 in Hancock and came to Escanaba as a youngster. He attended St. Joseph School and later worked for the Steele Wallace Corp., and at the Chicago and North Western boiler shop, until forced to retire.

McCarthy, a member of the Modern Woodmen of America, leaves the following brothers and sisters: Loretta of Escanaba, Gerald of Duluth, Dr. James McCarthy of Los Angeles, Bertrand McCarthy of Oakland, Calif., and Harold McCarthy of Flint. He was not married.

The body is in state at Alio funeral home.

Services will be conducted at 9 a. m., Tuesday from St. Patrick church with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. B. Melican officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Former Escanaban Dies In St. Clair

Word has been received here by Mr. and Mrs. George Goodnough, 301 N. 10th St., of the death of their granddaughter, Mrs. Norma (Goodnough) Sexton, 22, of St. Clair, Mich. Mr. Sexton was a former resident of Escanaba.

She is survived by her husband; one son, David; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Goodnough, former Escanaba residents; three brothers, Harold, Stanley and Kenneth, of St. Clair, and four sisters, Marguerite, Mary Ellen, John and Dorothy of Chicago.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at St. Clair, Mich.

Man Jailed Here On Bad Check Charge

Sentenced this morning to 15 days in county jail for passing an $8 bad check to Alex Malmstead of near Bark River was G. R. Lewis, 24-year-old salesman of Evanston, Ill., the sheriff's department said.

Lewis was ordered by Judge Henry Ranguette to make restitution of the $8 and to pay $8.25 in court costs.

The sheriff's department will hold Lewis for the sheriff at Gaylord in Otsego County, who wants the Evanston man on a similar charge.

Obituary

MRS. PHILIP VACHON

Funeral services for Mrs. Philip Vachon of Schaffer were held this morning at 9:30 in Sacred Heart Church in Schaffer. Rev. Joseph Beauchaine was celebrant at a solemn requiem high mass. Rev. Conrad Suda was deacon and Rev. Arnold Thompson sub-deacon. The Ladies' Altar Society attended in a body.

There were six honorary pallbearers: Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, Mrs. Henry Seymour, Mrs. Delphis La Vigne, Mrs. Eli Cousineau, Mrs. Eli Taylor, and Mrs. Ed Meyers. Active pallbearers were Joseph Nantelle, Charles Valois, Peter Martin, Eli Cousineau, Joseph Mitchell, and Victor Auger.

Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Vachon, Norway; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vachon and family, St. Ignace; Rita Vachon, Milwaukee; and Yvonne, Donald, Ronald and Philip Vachon, Norway.

Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Escanaba.

KOSTI RAJALA

Funeral services for Kosti (Ernie) Rajala of Rock were held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Finnish Lutheran Church at Rock with Rev. Amos Marin of Gwin officiating. Burial was made in Rock Cemetery.

During the services, C. Arthur Anderson sang two solos, "Sunrise Tomorrow" and "God Understands". The Ladies' choir sang "Beyond the Sunset". Mrs. John Anderson was accompanist.

Pallbearers were Ernest Fosterling, Ed Kaninen, Waino Mattila, John Narkooli, Isaac Ranta and Milton Naveau.

Full military rites were accorded by the American Legion posts at Rock, No. 559. Francis Thimbley acted as commander-in-charge, Archie Wood, chaplain; John Wood, bugler; color bearers, B. J. Noel and Paul Johnson; color guard, Clarence Lusardi and Lionel LeClaire.

Commander-in-chief of the firing squad was Cliff Carlson. The firing squad members were Les Maki, Les Viitala, Emil Lusardi, Sula Ruotsala, Waino Alto, Waino Bakka, Roy Martila and Jack Kleiber. The honor guard was made up of Ed Lindstrom, Les Larson, Leo Laitinen, B. Heikkila, M. Rouhonen, Ray Martilla, Louie Maki and Onni Simmes.

Out-of-town people who attended the services were Toivo Rajala, Saline, Mich.; George Rajala, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Gust Alto, Munising; Mrs. Ethel Englund, Waukegan, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Rene Bouillon, Holland, Mich.; and Mrs. August Bouillon, Mrs. John Peikola, Ojawa and August Maskart, Gladstone.

Major Andre was hanged as a British spy for negotiating with Benedict Arnold for the surrender of West Point to the redcoats.

Downward Price Pull May Hit Copper Soon

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Copper may be one of the first commodities to feel the downward price pull of the Korean truce.

That is because users of the metal expect military demand to become less pressing in the months ahead, and the urge of the government to stockpile copper to lose considerable of its edge.

Chile has on its hands large stocks of unsold, and presently unsaleable copper — at the price it wants. Chile would like to move this copper into Uncle Sam's stockpile. Since Chile's asking price is a good five cents above the world price, the United States isn't showing much interest. The Korean truce will weaken further any pressing immediate need to buy the copper.

Building Demands Ease

Copper users aren't looking for any big drop right away in the present world price of 30 cents a pound. But many of them think it is bound to turn down, now that fewer shells are being expended. They are, therefore, cutting back a little on their forward ordering and showing little interest in building up their inventories of the metal.

The construction industry is still using large amounts of copper — and showing few signs at present of slowing down. But if, as many believe, consumer demand for goods will start leveling off now, the building of new plants and the buying of new machinery may top out soon. The demands for metal will level off, too.

If auto production slackens by the end of the year, that too would cut demand for copper.

Good Backlogs

This is the thinking, at any rate, of many copper users. They plan to go a little more cautiously in their advance ordering, while waiting the price drop they expect by fall.

Copper and brass mills still have good backlogs of orders, however.

Chile's unsold copper has piled up to around 65,000 tons. This copper is produced at mines owned by two American companies, Anaconda and Kennecott. They get only part of that asking price. The Chilean government keeps a sizable slice of it for itself. Chile, moreover, is talking about taking over all copper mining in the country.

Diplomatic relations of this country and Chile play a large part, therefore, in determining what the United States does about Chilean copper.

Princess Not Wanted

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Shah's court has ordered the monarch's twin sister, a foe of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, to leave the country following her unexpected return here from Europe.

The sister, Princess Ashraf, left the country in August 1952 under conditions of virtual exile after Mossadegh accused her of scheming against him. She returned to Tehran Saturday night.

4-H Members Off To Camp

Beginning at about 12:30 today one car or pickup truck after another drove into the fair grounds to deposit 4-H boys and girls scheduled to leave at 1 for the 34th annual Upper Peninsula 4-H Club encampment at Camp Shaw, Chatham.

Girls shapely in blue denim or black denim emerged from the autos and greeted one another, and began to pile their baggage in a trailer behind 4-H Agent Fred Bernhardt's car. At the beginning the girls definitely outnumbered the boys, and the occasional boy arrival greeted each succeeding male arrival with an appearance of relief.

Parents Park

In most cases parents parked and waited to see their offspring depart. A bright yellow school bus driven by Richard Campbell of Rock took its place among the smaller vehicles and waited for the campers to climb aboard.

Bernhardt said about 50 Delta County 4-H'ers were scheduled to make the trip to the week-long encampment, about 30 girls and 20 boys. There will be 400 U. P. boys and girls at the encampment, representing all 15 U. P. counties.

Delegates will learn of the latest poultry research and management and crops work. There will be a forestry and conservation program, and boys and girls will tour Michigan State College's woodlot and the other natural resources of the camp.

Fun Scheduled

Home economists will conduct special classes in good grooming, clothing and styling.

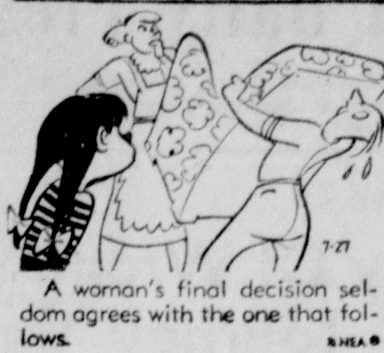

Also scheduled during the week are district elimination contests in judging, demonstrations, style revue, and achievement booths. Winners will enter competition at the State 4-H Show at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Fun at the camp will include organized recreation, a camp chorus, square dancing, campfire programs, a share-the-fun festival, and movies.

County Home Demonstration Agent Ingrid Tervonen is attending, as is Bernhardt.

Master's Voice Subdues Barking

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — A dog lover who believes in the peace and quiet of his neighbors as well as the happiness of his five Weimaraners has found an easy way to keep them all happy.

George C. Wiedeman has rigged up a 70-foot electrical communication system from his home to the backyard kennels.

If one of the dogs starts barking in the middle of the night, Wiedeman speaks sharply or smacks his hand with a rolled newspaper—before his bedroom microphone.

The dog obeys his master's voice. The neighbors get their sleep.

Arrest Local Youth As Reckless Driver

Donald E. Dufour, 22, of 1013 Second Ave. N., was arrested Saturday evening by Escanaba police and charged with reckless driving, after Dufour's speeding car collided with an auto driven by Robert Lequia, 417 S. 12th St., at the intersection of Stephenson and Ludington.

Arraigned this morning before Justice Henry Ranguette, the case was continued to 3 p. m. today for further investigation by Escanaba police of a report from Menominee city police that Dufour had been convicted there of a traffic violation and his driving license revoked.

Boys Not Guilty Of Wrong-Doing In Junior Golf Tourney Case

IF the executive committee of the Michigan High School Athletic Association sincerely desires to prevent an injustice, the committee will reinstate the high school athletes who have been declared ineligible for accepting merchandise prizes in the recent Upper Peninsula Junior Golf tournament here.

Two of the boys are Escanaba youngsters, Bill LeMire of Escanaba High School and David Hirn of St. Joseph High School. The boys have been placed on the ineligibility list by Charles E. Forsythe, state high school athletic director. Forsythe had no alternative because he does not possess authority to consider extenuating circumstances in such cases. That is the prerogative of the executive committee. It is hoped to arrange for consideration of the case by the committee prior to the opening of the high school football season in the Upper Peninsula.

The facts in the case are as follows:

Intercontinental Cooperation

A few days after we celebrated our 177th anniversary of independence, Canada also celebrated the anniversary of her founding as a self-governing nation.

There is a pleasant symbolism in the fact that these two observances came on almost identical dates. For no nations on earth have shown, over the years, greater friendliness, solidarity and mutual respect than exists between Canada and the United States.

The two governments have worked amicably together in solving common problems in peace and war. And so have major enterprises within the countries. For instance both Canada and the United States, being vast land areas, are greatly dependent on rail transportation. And the railroads of both nations work together through mutual and cooperative agreements, making possible a continent-wide flow of raw materials and finished products. They exchange ideas, to the benefit of all concerned.

This is certainly an outstanding example of international cooperation. Would there were more of it throughout this troubled world!

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Leonardo—"Why is it that Leonardo da Vinci is usually spoken of as Leonardo? We do not refer to Christopher Columbus as Christopher."—Mrs. L. W. A., Waco, Texas.

The name Leonardo da Vinci means Leonardo of Vinci. He lived at a time (1452-1519) when surnames had not become fully established as a custom and frequently the name of a man's town served as his surname. Moreover, Leonardo was the illegitimate son of Ser Piero d'Antonio, a Florentine notary, and, though he lived in his father's home he could not take his father's name.

relay—K. K. E., Norfolk, Va.—In the sense of to lay again, the past tense and past participle of relay is relaid. But in the sense of to pass on, to forward by relays, the past tense and the past participle of relay is relayed.

United States—Miss L. B. R., Oklahoma City, Okla.—When we speak of our country as a nation it is customary to refer to it as the United States. When viewed as a collection of states, we may speak of it as the United States, but justification for the latter usage is rare.

Newfoundland—H. T. W., Reno, Nev.—The name of the island on the coast of British North America is pronounced NEW-fund-LAND. However, the dog which was originally bred on that island is generally called a new-FOUND-land.

couple—"I am confused. Should one say, 'The couple, on return from wedding trip, will make its home at such-and-such an address?' It doesn't sound right."—H. H. H., Beaumont, Texas.

A collective noun, though singular in form, may be followed by either singular or plural construction according to the sense. Accordingly, one should say, "The couple will make their home..."

The Doctor Says ... Too Much Saliva May Be Caused By Disease

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

A person who has excessive secretion of the saliva must be quite uncomfortable.

Q—Is there any cause for a great excess of saliva in the mouth? It seems to be a family characteristic, but I am really quite uncomfortable and embarrassed at times.

Mrs. S. J.

A—This peculiar condition of excessive saliva secretion is known as ptyalism. Sometimes it is associated with an easily identifiable inflammatory condition of the mouth or nearby regions which can be corrected; in some instances it is associated with general diseases, some of which can be successfully treated and some not. In many cases, however, no definite cause can be found, though it is said often to accompany neurosis, or perhaps emotional instability. When a cause can be discovered, of course, this should be treated as indicated, but when not, little can be done except, perhaps, to use drugs of the belladonna family which, however, must be given with care and cannot be used for an indefinite period of time.

Q—Would you please say something about arsenic poisoning? I have been suffering from this for a long time and wonder how long it will take to get over it.

E. G.

A—Nothing is said in the inquiry concerning how the arsenic poisoning was acquired. Certainly the first step is to trace the source and make sure that no further arsenic is penetrating in to the system. The second step is to try to increase the elimination of arsenic through the kidneys and bowels. For this purpose a chemical substance developed during World War II, commonly known as BAL, is probably the most promising. With regard to the duration of symptoms, one can only say that they may last for weeks or months, and the kidneys may remain permanently damaged to a greater or lesser degree. I should like to be more encouraging about this condition, but the important thing is to avoid poisoning from arsenic in the first place.

Q—Does losing your child in a placenta praevia birth mean that it is dangerous to have more children even after having had two normal children with normal births?

Mrs. M. B.

A—One can have perfectly normal births and normal children following a placenta praevia. There is an increase in frequency of placenta praevia paralleling the number of children previously born, and associated with the rapidity with which labor follows one another. Your obstetrician should be consulted concerning your own particular problem.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, new U. S. ambassador to Italy and the wife of the Time-Life publisher, has sent a scorching telegram to the State Department. It was so hot that diplomats said it almost burnt their fingers.

Mrs. Luce lambasted Washington for inviting the Yugoslav military delegation to visit the nation's capital and ignoring the Italians. She said this boner had infuriated our best friends in Italy and might cause the fall of our long-time champion there, Premier De Gasperi.

To invite the Yugoslavs, rivals of the Italians, to Washington just at a time when Premier De Gasperi was trying to form a pro-American government, Mrs. Luce said, was the height of boneheaded diplomacy.

NEW YORK DOG FIGHT

The political cat and dog fight over New York City politics may seem far removed from the rest of the nation. But since New York state usually dominates the choice of presidential nominees, the battle for mayor of New York may have important repercussions on who is elected President of the United States in 1956.

Two backstage battles are under way, one of them bitter in the extreme.

The Republican battle, not so bitter, has featured some secret wire-pulling between Governor Dewey and his onetime close friend, Sen. Irving Ives. Ives has now become the most popular Republican in New York state, and wants Dewey to quit next year so Ives can become governor. Dewey, on the other hand, is determined to stay on, wants to control New York's powerful delegation to the next Republican convention, so as to take a third and last try at the presidency when Eisenhower bows out—as is expected.

Bitterest fight is between the Dems. What the race for mayor of New York boils down to is a battle between Jim Farley and Roosevelt New Dealers to control the next nominee as governor of New York and the New York delegation to the next presidential convention.

Big Jim, who has wanted to control New York politics since he bolted Roosevelt, is back-stage campaign manager for Mayor Impellitteri. If he re-elects Impellitteri, he plans to block either Franklin D. Roosevelt or Averell Harriman as the next governor of New York and put up his own man instead. That man could be Jim, himself.

Arrayed against him are the remnants of the old Roosevelt New Dealers, boss Ed Flynn of the Bronx, and Carmen Disapio, head of rejuvenated Tammany Hall.

In an effort to block Farley and Mayor Impellitteri, they threw their weight to young Robert Wagner, son of the late senator. They also favor either Harriman or young Roosevelt to be governor of New York next year.

What this all points to is the probability that Democratic bittiness and Republican wire-pulling will lead to a victory for the Liberal party. Rudolph Halley, former counsel to the Kefauver crime committee and liberal candidate, may have an excellent chance of squeezing in between divided Republican and Democratic parties.

NEW YORK CENTRAL RR

Without any fanfare, Robert R. Young, lone wolf of the railroad industry, has bought up 25 per cent of the New York Central railroad and can now almost completely control that organization.

Officially the Interstate Commerce Commission has ruled that Young cannot control the New York Central. But now that Young's Chesapeake & Ohio and his Allegany Corporation have quietly acquired one-quarter of New York Central stock, the ICC will face a tough decision.

Significantly, the new president of the Central, William White, has already begun adopting Young's railroad ideas, among them lighter passenger cars, a central reservation bureau, and closer relations between stockholders and the railroad.

If he is able to combine the New York Central with the Chesapeake & Ohio, Young will have the largest railroad network in the United States.

THE NEW DUST BOWL

Most tragic part about the southwest drought is that the damage will be even greater next year unless some sort of a cover crop is grown before the windy season starts in March. Without such a crop, so much of the land will be blown away as to be virtually unreclaimable.

Questions and Answers

Q—Would Niagara Falls be part of the St. Lawrence Seaway project?

A—No. A treaty between Canada and the U. S. calls for development of the Niagara River's power potential, and Congress is considering how the American share of the project should be implemented, but the Niagara and St. Lawrence developments are separate. Hearings on the St. Lawrence project also are under way.

Why Do We Always Have to Learn the Hard Way?

Dr. Edwin Moli Is Probably Most Beloved Yankee In Upset Arabia

ARAB SECTION, Jerusalem—(NEA)—In the crowded bazaar of Jerusalem's old walled city, next to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Christendom's most sacred shrine, I met an American man of charity looking for children who had lost an eye.

His rainbow tie, cigar, cane, bifocals and beret labeled him "tourist." But as smiling Arabs called out "Marhaba"—greetings—and as he with trained fingers drew back the eyelids of passing urchins, I knew that here was more than a mere traveler to the holy places of the Promised Land.

We went together by Damascus Gate to the terrace of Cafe Zatar ("A leaf of time") and as he fondly smoked a water pipe with friends I learned his story.

He is Dr. Edwin Moli, Near East director of Lutheran World Federation, perhaps the most beloved American in these feverish parts of Arabia where today we beg allies.

Dr. Moli makes kindly eye even of a morning stroll, seeking children with one eye deadened all white by the common trachoma and conjunctivitis. Physicians in Augusta Victoria Hospital, which he supervises on the Mount of Olives, remove useless orbs and replace them with fine plastic eyes concealing the afflictions and making shy youngsters smile again.

Dr. Moli's main mission is to supplement skimpy UN food, clothing and medicines allotted to 800,000 Christian and Moslem Palestinians evicted from Israel during Arab-Jewish battles and refused re-entry.

The only American living in the Old City, he has Spartan rooms in Church Santa Maria Latina, gracefully arched by the Crusaders. When the refugee flood overflows, the pulpit becomes a pantry, the pew beds.

The interior is dense with bales of used American garments gathered by the Lutherans. They include tuxedos and frilly evening dresses, later reworked for unfashionable wear in refugee camps where babies sleep tight on their bellies to ease hunger pains.

The federation tops all private relief for displaced Arabs. Besides the hospital and refugee stores, Dr. Moli administers five clinics, two orphanages, schools and 22 centers where small fry must swallow vitamin tablets and cod liver oil to earn their milk.

A State Department agent who has seen Western failings in the Mid-East fatten Communist legions told me: "Dr. Moli yearly banks more good will than Point Four office-bound bureaucrats by personally calling on the destitute."

Dr. Moli's visits to refugee camps near Bethlehem must recall another who walked there 1900 years ago. The word that he has come excites the hundreds who have vegetated on UN crumbs for five years, ignored by a world concerned elsewhere.

An old man, with gown and burmose fresh white despite dirt-flecked quarters, touches his head and heart and asks Dr. Moli: "Can you help us obtain clothes to wrap around our dead? Now we must bury them as they are."

A young Arab, with strong hawk-like desert features, asks: "How can I get to Saudi Arabia? I am a trained mechanic and would work for American oil drillers there."

ON HIS WALKS through Jerusalem, beret-wearing Dr. Edwin Moli stops Arab children to find those who have lost an eye.

Dr. Moli holds "court" in a tent where the "stove" is a wood fire in a pit. He notes appeals and quietly explains America to the bitter many who blame us for their plight, for being pro-Israel. Then, while an official glances, he pokes his can through a tent-fabric to prove how rotten the fabric.

A widower, Dr. Moli first came to Jerusalem as an Army officer in 1917, then held pastorates in Wisconsin, California and Chicago before settling permanently in the Old City seven years ago.

Although bombs, crushed the roof and splashed stained glass windows during the 1948 violence, Dr. Moli kept working, with a sandbag for a pillow. Even today lead flies as the Old City wall divides the armed and ever angry Arab and Jewish sections.

As I left Dr. Moli he walked past the Wailing Wall and Solomon's Temple followed by barefoot, skipping kids. He stopped to examine several he did not know, strangers, looking for children who had lost an eye.

WRIGHT - PATTERSON AIR FORCE BASE, Ohio (NEA)—The Air Force has two sergeants on the run here so that others may walk.

For out of this Air Force base come braces of all sorts, shapes, varieties and sizes to help the nation's crippled and paralyzed back to a useful life.

The overwhelmingly specialized job is done by two men M/Sgt. Herbert C. Nordstrom and his assistant, S/Sgt. Warren A. Shaw. In 18 months since their shop opened, they have turned out 500 pieces of apparatus.

Most braces are made for American servicemen and veterans. But many have been sent to their dependents. Nordstrom and Shaw have worked on splints and supports for a 10-day-old baby and a 74-year-old grandmother.

Although some braces can be made in half an hour, the two specialists spend 2½ weeks making a complex body-length job of steel, leather and cloth that will restore motion to a man left helpless from the neck down by a polio attack.

Nordstrom has been credited with designing and building a unique brace used in treating palsy of the hand. It straitens out the hand while allowing for the exercise that may mean eventual cure.

He is a veteran of 11 years as an Army and Air Force medic. Nine of those years he spent in orthopedic work. And in January, 1952, he opened the Wright-Patterson brace shop. The only other Air Force shop of its kind is located in Texas' Lackland Air Force Base.

BASE FOR BRACES is Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio, where M/Sgt. Herbert Nordstrom builds braces like this.

Nordstrom's skill has been used by the Army, too. In 1946 he was sent to the Philippines to train natives in the manufacture of artificial limbs.

In the military service, which has a category for everything and everything in a category, no one has thought of a name for Nordstrom's specialty.

No one has yet built a pigeon-hole for this man, who needs for his job an understanding of anatomy, welding, and sheet-metal work while he doubles as a pattern-maker and a seamstress.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Purges are happening behind the Iron Curtain faster than the Communist propagandists in the United States can keep up with them. The Hungarian legation here, for instance, publishes a bi-monthly magazine, "New Hungary." The June-July issue has a big picture of Matyas Radosi on the cover. The lead article tells about the May 17 elections.

"The results," says the magazine, "showed the complete unity of the Hungarian working people rallying behind the Hungarian Working Peoples' party and Matyas Radosi, their beloved leader."

Only thing wrong with this, of course, was that on July 4 Radosi and his cabinet were replaced and policies repudiated.

STRICTLY FROM HUNGARY

Incidentally, the current gag being circulated in Hungary goes like this: First Hungarian—Why is the sale of liquor prohibited during elections?

Second Hungarian—So that no one should see two parties where there is only one.

It should be made clear this riddle was not printed in "New Hungary," cited above, but in "News from Behind the Iron Curtain."

HEARING DOUBLE

Capitol Hill visitors who walk into the office of Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware had better know where they're looking for. Senator Williams' administrative assistant is former Congressman George Williams of Delaware. The two Williamses aren't related.

CALENDAR STOPPED

Department of Commerce has had to discontinue its calendar of special days, weeks and months. Reason—Congress refused to appropriate money for it. The Department resumed its publication after the war, as a help to businessmen in planning advertising and promotion for such things as Bird Day, I Am an American Day, American Art Week, Cancer Control Month and all the others.

BOOK BURNING WE LIKE

In spite of all the talk about book burning, there's one destruction of government papers about which no one is complaining. This is General Services Administrator Edmund F. Mansure's campaign to get rid of the contents of some 15,000 government filing cabinets.

With the liquidation of Office of Price Stabilization and other emergency control agencies, GSA was given the job of disposing of their records. They left behind 30,000 filled filing cabinets. Congress gave GSA permission to destroy half of them. The job will be completed this summer.

GSA estimates that every time it empties a filing cabinet, the government is saved $50 by not having to buy a new file. The government bought 97,000 files in 1951, before the record-disposal program was begun. In 1952 it was only 32,000. And this year only 8000 new files will be needed.

SUFFERS IN HEAT

Roger Kyes, Deputy Secretary of Defense, says he isn't taking Washington's summer heat too well. He says everything is fine as long as he's in the air-conditioned Pentagon, or in his air-conditioned apartment. But he doesn't particularly like the rides home in his official car. It's a 1947 Cad and doesn't have air conditioning.

IKE DID IT

During debate in Congress on the drought relief bill, Rep. Karl C. King (R., Pa.) confessed that he used to live in the Southwest, but he was glad when he left and went to Pennsylvania.

To which Rep. Victor Wickersham, (D., Okla.) replied, "I should like to quote what a friend of mine said about another fellow who had left the Southwest and gone to live in Pennsylvania... He said it improved the standing of both states."

YES—COUNT US TOO

This story comes from a report of "News From Behind the Iron Curtain":

"Who was the first man?" a Polish teacher asked one of his students.

"Our beloved Stalin," said the student.

"No," the teacher corrected. "The first man was Adam."

"Oh, well, yes," the surprised student answered, "if you want to count the capitalists."

When a heavy drinker goes through life driving an auto without an accident, it's an accident.

What makes some modern poetry so interesting is trying to figure out what it means.

Why Batory Captain Fled

Skipper Tells Of Final Warnings And How He Eluded Secret Police To Reach Safety In London

Capt. Jan Cwiklinski, master of the Polish liner Batory, on which Gerhart Eisler escaped from the United States, recently sought and obtained political asylum in Great Britain. This is the fifth article by him on conditions under the Communist regime which caused him to walk off his ship at Newcastle-on-Tyne, where it was being overhauled.

By Capt. Jan Cwiklinski
LONDON

The Batory and her entire company had been looking forward to this spring with great anticipation because on May 9 we were scheduled to go into drydock at Hebburn-on-Tyne, near Newcastle. This was an event which occurred only once in four years, when the Batory is given a complete overhaul, and we looked forward to it because the operation would take about six weeks, we would have a long holiday in a foreign port and we could see the bubbling coronation activities.

Unfortunately for most of the company, the Batory was given a skeleton crew of only eighty officers and men for this trip. The rest of the crew of 365 men had to stay behind in Gdynia. Security police correctly calculated there would be less opportunity for me to desert if they remained home.

The favored eighty were handpicked by security officers, who trusted them to hold their own against the strong temptations of forty-two days in a free country and to return dutifully to the Batory and to Poland at the end of that time. I was given something of a shock when it was suggested that I might not be among them but this warning, like any previous ones which had been passed on to me, proved unfounded.

Kept Getting Warnings

I left on schedule, accompanied, as usual, by Secret Police Capt. Peter Szmielek, Secret Police Capt. Kaminski and other members of the espionage network aboard the Batory. But throughout the trip I kept getting more and more warnings. At first I refused to take them seriously, especially since my departure had just exploded one of them.

Over a period of more than six years as captain of the Batory, I naturally acquired a number of friends among the crew. For obvious reasons I am unable to disclose their names. From what they told me and from the grave concern in their faces, it soon became apparent that some of them were members of the secret police or were in close touch with them.

"Captain," one of them whispered to me, "this is your last trip."

"Nonsense!" I cried. "What have I done?"

"Captain," he continued in a low whisper, "your time has come. You are to be arrested on your return to Gdynia and accused of espionage on behalf of Britain and the United States."

"Nonsense!" I cried again. "Why, after all this time, should they now fabricate such stupid and outrageous charges against me?"

"They Do Not Trust You" "Captain," he continued, "they do not trust you any more. You have made too many friends among your British and American passengers and our police officers are convinced that you have been passing information to them. You are suspiciously aloof in your attitude toward Szmielek and Kaminski and you go off suspiciously on your own with foreigners when we are abroad. Do you remember the long trip by automobile which you took privately with a foreign passenger when we were last in Bombay?"

Statements of this kind were alarming because they suggested that my informant might know what he was talking about. Much of his detailed information about my movements did not come from me and could have been obtained only by an espionage ring.

The mounting fear that this time the rumors were not rumors turned my English spring-time holiday into a nightmare. The fate of the two Gubala brothers seemed to be forever staring at me. These brothers, instructors at the Polish Merchant Marine School, were condemned to death two years ago on charges of sabotage. The sentence has not yet been executed and they remain in prison. It is ironic that foreign Communists and sympathizers should have raised such a storm over the Rosenbergs while the Gubalas hover between life and death as Polish authorities prolong their agony and uncertainty into a third year.

I dreaded the thought that I was to be condemned to a similar fate, which is worse than death because it denies you life while withholding the peace of death.

A Terrible Choice

I could not quite bring myself around to a complete acceptance of the rumors because this would confront me with a terrible choice—desertion to a foreign country or death of one kind or another in my own country. In either case I would lose my wife, Slawa, and the two children, a daughter of seventeen and a son of nine. I preferred not to face this choice.

Instead, I decided to withdraw unobtrusively from the merchant marine service immediately after returning to Poland. Once I was fixed in Poland and cut off from the outside world, like all the others, I thought the secret police might abandon their suspicions and leave me alone. As our stay in England was drawing to a close, I sent a wire to the manager of the line at Gdynia requesting a leave of absence upon my return to Gdynia on grounds of "ill health."

I told my informant what I had done, primarily to hear his opinion as to whether my withdrawal from the merchant marine would enable me to continue living in Poland.

He smiled grimly. "Captain," he said, "it is too late. The decision has been taken and the formalities are now being completed."

"Formalities?" I asked. "What formalities?"

"Captain," he replied in a whisper which was almost inaudible, "a special secret police investigator has been assigned to you on this trip for the specific purpose of making a final report on your activities to bring the case against you up to date."

Proof in a Button

When he saw I was still unconvinced, he handed me a button and said, "Captain, you may remember this. It was found some time ago while you were driving around Gdynia in a cab. The cab was one of our cars."

I stared at the button in amazement, overwhelmed by its significance. This was a final gesture of friendship, a final warning against returning to Poland, and final proof that my informant was an important secret police agent himself who knew precisely what he was talking about.

There were forty-eight hours left before the Batory was due to sail for Gdynia. That night I wrestled with the terrible problem confronting me and by dawn I decided there was no alternative but to desert and to plead for refuge in England.

At 9 a. m. on June 19, the day before the Batory was to leave, I conducted my usual routine inspection of the ship. I returned to my cabin and packed my briefcase with private letters and documents, a pair of pajamas and a spare shirt. I left all my other possessions, including the crosses of honor which had been awarded to me.

Takes Only Briefcase

At 10 a. m., dressed in civilian clothes and carrying only my briefcase, I walked off the ship, explaining that I had to report to the British authorities the disappearance of the ship's doctor, Wladislaw Tatcileiter, who had just deserted. I frequently went ashore in the morning while the ship was in drydock and there was nothing visibly unusual about my movements this time.

I was burning with excitement and flooded with sadness. I knew I was leaving this ship forever—my home for so many years and my last bit of Poland. I had wanted so much but had been unable to say goodbye to the friends remaining on board. I turned for a final glance of silent farewell as the grey hull and the funnels of the Batory faded from view.

In the dockyard I ran into an

MARKS HISTORIC FEAT—A new five-cent stamp issued by the U. S. Post Office marks the centennial of the opening of Japan to world trade. Commodore Matthew C. Perry was commander of the American fleet that ended Japan's isolation in 1853.

English friend who frequently gave me a lift to near-by Newcastle.

"Going to town, captain?" he asked. "Hop in."

He dropped me in the center of the city, not knowing that this lift was very different from all the previous ones. I had decided to go to London, where I had some friends who might help me, and my immediate problem was to reach them without being detected.

I was afraid to board a train at Newcastle because Polish secret agents might be stationed there to apprehend any Batory officers or seamen in the act of deserting. I hired a private car, which took me to Darlington, about thirty miles away, and there boarded a train for London.

Quits Train Outside London

London is 232 miles from Darlington and before I could reach it my desertion might be detected aboard the Batory and Szmielek might phone his agents to try to intercept me at the London railway station. Therefore I left the train at a local station just outside London. I boarded a taxi and reached the city at 8 p. m. I had made good my escape.

I spent the week end with friends and on June 23 I presented myself at a police station and announced: "I am Jan Cwiklinski, Captain of the Batory. I seek political asylum."

I wrote out a formal petition to the British Home Secretary and was taken to Brixton Prison, where I was treated with great courtesy and was given some of the comforts of a hotel while awaiting a reply.

On the first day I was asked by a Scotland Yard officer why

I had deserted. I told him that the Batory had become a prison, that I had been pursued by spies for more than three years and that I was to be arrested and persecuted upon my return to Poland.

He returned the next day and announced that my petition had been granted. I walked out of Brixton Prison a free man for the first time since the Communists seized power in Poland and I became a refugee in the free world.

Tomorrow: Capt. Cwiklinski describes the difficulties of life in Communist Poland.

Marquette College Accepted By AAUW

Northern Michigan College of Education in Marquette has been formally accepted into membership in the American Association of University Women, an organization of alumnae of colleges and universities which have highest education standards for women.

Approval of the college's membership admits to membership in the AAUW all women who have received a 4-year degree from the college, and to associate membership, in such branches as include them, all women who have attended the college for at least two years. This status is retroactive.

Northern Michigan and the Marquette AAUW branch are planning a tea and reception for students and alumnae of Northern on Oct. 16, and an AAUW workshop Oct. 17.

Academic Standards

Acceptance of Northern into membership is the result of an inspection of the campus facilities and programs last January by Dr. Ruth Boynton, director of the University of Minnesota Health service. While there, Dr. Boynton examined Lee Hall dormitory and health service, the department of physical education for women and the school social program. She also met with members of the student council.

The association is concerned primarily with establishing and maintaining high educational standards for women and children through practical education work. It accepts for membership graduates of colleges and universities that fulfill specific academic standards, have due regard for the principle of equity in recognition, and require 50 per cent of liberalizing content for their degrees.

Support Legislation

Approximately a third of U. S. colleges and universities have thus far been accepted.

Beginning with studies of various problems connected with college education for women, the AAUW has broadened its scope to include study and activity in socio-economic problems, parental education, international relations, educational trends and guidance, hygiene, health and arts.

Services of authorities are obtained to prepare materials in these fields, for the membership, and a national committee actively supports legislation carrying out purposes of the association. State and local branches work for legislation in support of schools and other educational and cultural services.

Polish No Asset On Unkempt Hands

Some teen-agers spend a lot of time on fancy manicures, including deepest red nail polish shades, and almost none on basic hand care. The result is that the red color emphasizes the unlovely quality of their hands.

Make sure that you never, through sheer carelessness, fall into that category. Haven't you noticed, perhaps at school, how many of your classmates have hands with rough, scaly skin and red knuckles with grime ground in?

Too often the nails are unmanicured, either bitten down to the quick or overlong and unfilled and unshaped, but decorated with red nail polish just the same.

As often as your hands look soiled, take time to fill the basin with warm water and lather your hands well. Scrub the nails with a brush. Rinse the soap off thoroughly and dry completely with a clean towel. Push the cuticle back with a towel.

Follow with a creamy hand lotion. You might carry some with you in the cosmetic kit of you. handbag. If the soap in school is harsh, it would be wise to bring your own.

The pale shades of nail polish are prettiest on young hands, but they don't look pretty if the hands themselves are uncareful for and the nails unkempt. If you can't suppress a desire for red nail polish, be smart and use it only for dress-up evening occasions.

When you file the nails, shape them into ovals, not daggers, and don't let them extend more than a fraction of an inch.

When you are separating egg whites and egg yolks, be sure that even the most minute bit of yolk does not get in the whites. If it does, the whites will not beat as satisfactorily as they should.

No League Pairings At Escanaba Golf Club This Week

The Escanaba Golf Club announced today there will be no pairings this week because a number of league players are entered in the U. P. Golf Tournament at Highland Golf Club.

A special golfing event will be held on the regular league day, July 29, for those not entered in the U. P. Tournament.

There will be a dinner at 6 p. m. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Roy Starrin, chairman, and Mrs. Elmer Swanson, co-chairman, and Mrs. C. J. Driscoll, Mrs. E. Huesener, Mrs. W. L. Kennedy, Mrs. Paul Stack, and Miss Mary Loeffler.

A special golf meeting will be held at 7:30.

Members are asked to make reservations by Tuesday night by calling the clubhouse.

Blinking Rests, Protects Eyes

Have you noticed the difference in eyelid action between young and old? Young girls' eyes are always blinking — not consciously but naturally, without their thinking — to keep out dust and to rest the eyes. As age sets in, the eyelids become more and more still — you may see a conspicuous slow blink every few minutes.

It seems an effort for the aged to move their eyelids. Before this old-before-your-time condition has any chance to set in, think about your blinking. Do it often—at least every line when you are reading, to combat fatigue, and frequently when you are looking at anything intently—whether at pictures in a museum or at a tennis ball flying back and forth. A blinking eye is alive-looking.

If you would have disarming eyes, learn to use them effectively. Don't let them dart about nervously, look people up and down or stare fixedly. Look people in the eyes often as you talk with them so they will know you are interested.

If you want someone to get the full effect of a look, don't jerk your head and eyes about in one imperfectly coordinated swoop. Move your eyes first and then follow with your head, gradually. The head should never be jerked but moved with slow grace.

If you can't feel your eyes light up when you smile, it's better not to smile at all. A forced smile is charmless. Wait until you feel one before you produce it.

To rest your eyes from work, look into the distance occasionally. To give them the temporary relaxation of total darkness, shut out all light by closing the palms of your hands about your eyes with fingers crossed at the forehead. Stay that way a few minutes.

A cookie sheet for baking will help you to turn out perfect cookies if it fits into your oven with at least an inch to spare between its edges and the oven walls. Too large a sheet will block heat circulation and cookies will be too brown on the bottom and too light on top.

Garnish your holiday cookies with strips of colored gumdrops, small pieces of semi-sweet chocolate, strips of candied cherries, nuts and dates. Of course colored frosting helps to make Christmas cookies attractive, too.

Footnotes To Summer Charm

By VIVIAN BROWN

Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
Your footprints can leave sparkling imprints on summer sands.

Feet lead a sole-tickling existence in summertime, what with warm sands and dewy grasses underfoot by day and cool patios by night. The goal should be to keep your feet twinkling during this barefoot period.

A weekly pedicure should take only 15 minutes, and your reward may be little toes that give the appearance of bright seashells. Here's how:

1. Remove old nail polish with oily remover. Moisten cotton with it, pressing it against the nail for a few seconds, then wipe down with a single stroke toward the nail tip.

2. File toe nails straight across with an emery board. If nails are long use scissors to cut them, taking care not to cut them too close. Never file or cut your nails away at corners. This can cause ingrown toenails. Shape them slightly at the tip in an oval shape.

3. Soak your feet in warm soapy water, scrubbing them with a soft brush, then dry thoroughly.

4. Apply oily cuticle remover with an orangewood stick wrapped with cotton. This should be worked gently around the cuticle, pushing it back from the nail. Wipe loosened cuticle with towel or tissue.

5. After using cuticle oil go over the nails again with polish remover to remove all traces of oil.

6. Apply a polish foundation to your nails. Then choose your favorite polish, applying it sparingly with a not-too-full brush so that it does not run back on the nail.

7. After the polish is dry, take cuticle oil and apply it around the cuticle. Massage cream around feet and ankles.

Pearly polishes are popular now because these give a jewel-like sparkle to the nails. You'll find them available in pink, rose, flame and even white pearl tones.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Westphal of San Francisco, Calif. are the parents of a girl, Diane Lee, born July 23. She weighed 6 lbs., 12 oz. Mrs. Westphal is the former Dorothy Larson. The child is the first in the family and also the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Larson, 1428 Lake Shore Drive.

home of the B. J. Gallagher family, Old State Road.

Mrs. Frank Sullivan and Mrs. Kate McMillan have returned to California and Mrs. George Staley has returned to Milwaukee after visiting in Escanaba with Mrs. John Moran, Mrs. Judy Cannon and several other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Gardner and Betty Casey, 1408 Ludington St., and Jim Belanger of Gladstone have returned from the Copper Country and Mackinac Island where they spent their vacation.

Evelyn Kain of Ann Arbor, Mich. is visiting her father, Louis Swanson, Willow Creek Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shervin and children, Darlene and Dicky, of Bethesda, Md. are visiting at the home of Mrs. Shervin's mother, Mrs. Hugh Gartland, 1811 13th Ave. N., for two weeks. The Shervins came to Escanaba to attend the wedding of Mrs. Shervin's brother, William Gartland.

Escanaba DAV Picnic Attracts Over 100

Escanaba Chapter 24 of the Disabled American Veterans and its auxiliary held their annual picnic at Pine Lodge club Sunday, with over 100 attending.

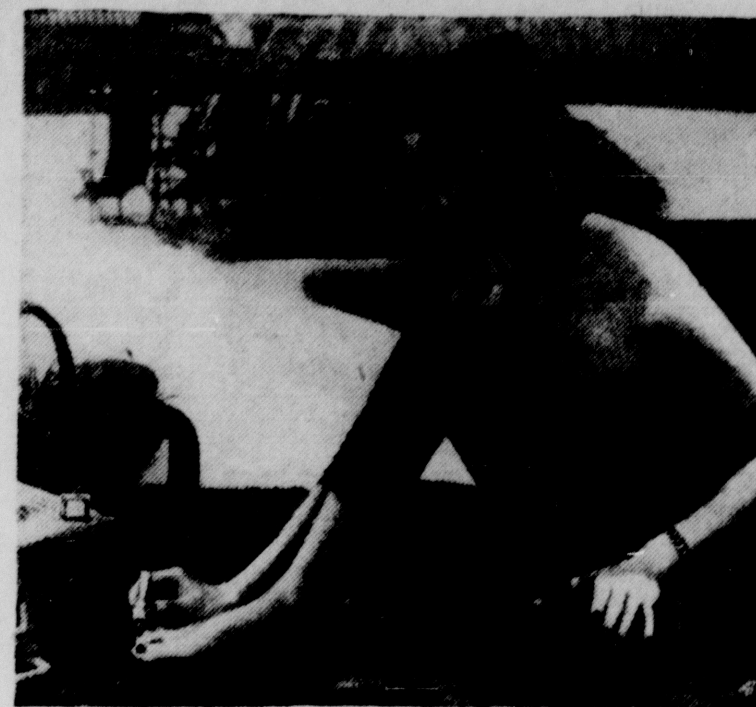

Each family group brought its own lunch basket and ice cream and refreshments were served by the chapter. Various games were played and small awards were made.

William Garbett and family came the longest distance for the picnic. They are visiting in Gulliver with Mrs. Garbett's father, Mr. Vanatta.

Leo Graville was the oldest member present and Louis DeMeuse, 88, of Perkins, a visitor, was the oldest person present. The youngest person attending was Peggy Sue Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fisher.

The Francis Hansen family was the largest family group attending.

Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rudolph Jr. and son, Allen of Marquette, Richard Rudolph Sr. of Marinette, Louis DeMeuse of Perkins, Eugene Plouff of Flat Rock and John Sorault and Joe Hurkman of Escanaba.

Bare Shoulders Not For Street

By ALICIA HART

There's a summer look for the city which makes everyone within range feel more cool and comfortable. It includes neat cotton or linen dresses in dark colors—black, forest green, brown and gray, for examples—with enough cover-up to hide prickly heat or other unsightly summertime manifestations.

Backs and shoulders are always covered, even if only with bolero jackets, in the daytime. Gloves and stockings aren't left at home. Toes don't protrude from shoes in the early hours.

Does so much cover-up sound warm to you? If you've tried and compared the difference, you may realize that fabric protects the body from excessive heat as well as from the cold.

The important thing is to choose a porous, soft, lightweight fabric in a garment with a non-constricting fit. Cover-up shoes, likewise, protect the feet from hot pavements. Linen, shantung, kid or other summertime shoes will permit flexibility without becoming hot-boxes.

Many girls take the road of least resistance, beauty-wise, in summer and wear country clothes in the city—peasant skirts, bare-shouldered blouses, and backless dresses on the street.

Smartness depends so much on looking in place, or in harmony with surroundings. One wishes more girls were aware of the cool-looking and cool-feeling possibilities of more cover-up for town in summer in the daytime. They'd certainly look prettier.

Keep cake and bread in different containers as the cake is likely to draw moisture out of the bread.

New Way To Pack A Picnic Lunch

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

HERE WE GO, tampering with something as venerable as a picnic. Much as you may love old-time ways, we're suggesting you be flexible and try something new. Yes, divorce yourselves from old-fashioned picnic baskets and go off with some up-to-the-minute picnic trays.

Leave the twigs on the trees, the seaweed in the water, and the shells on the beach! We promise you there'll be no more sand in your sandwiches if you pack individual picnic lunches in plastic trays.

The tray sections will hold picnic food and accessories neatly. Put your sandwich filling in split frankfurter rolls and two of the rolls will fit into one of the long sections. Carrot and celery sticks, and radishes, can go into another section; a cup-cake and a picnic tumbler into another; fruit into still another. That leaves room for a paper napkin and any cutlery that might be needed for food that's to be grilled outdoors. The trays may be slipped into plastic bags and stacked in the refrigerator. When you're ready to leave, the trays may be stacked in a basket.

Here are two sandwich fillings that will taste good in frankfurter rolls:

Cheese and Dried Beef Sandwich Filling

Ingredients: 1/2 cup grated sharp cheese (firmly packed), 1/2 cup chopped dried beef (firmly packed), 1/3 cup mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing, 2 tablespoons finely diced celery, 2 tablespoons sweet pickle juice, 1/4 teaspoon onion salt.

Method: Mix cheese, dried beef, mayonnaise, celery, pickle juice and onion salt. Makes almost a cup—enough filling for 4 sandwiches.

Ham and Egg Sandwich Filling

Ingredients: 2 hard-cooked eggs (finely chopped), 1/4 cup canned deviled ham, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard.

Method: Mix eggs, ham, mayonnaise and mustard. Makes almost a cup—enough filling for 4 sandwiches.

Garnish your holiday cookies with strips of colored gumdrops, small pieces of semi-sweet chocolate, strips of candied cherries, nuts and dates. Of course colored frosting helps to make Christmas cookies attractive, too.

Distinctive DRY CLEANING

... here we use gentle but efficient solvents in cleaning your garments. Their colors will be fresher and brighter and, they will not only wear better but will wear longer.

Honor Herberts At Anniversary

Congregations of Zion Lutheran Church, Manistique, and Bethany Lutheran Church, Isabella, gathered at the local church Friday evening to honor the Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Herbert on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary.

The Rev. Herbert has been pastor of both churches for the past seven years.

Arrangements for the anniversary event were made by the boards of administration of the two churches. Ladies of Zion Lutheran were hostesses.

The Rev. and Mrs. Herbert entered the church at 8:30 to the strains of a wedding march. The following program was presented, with Robert Olson, assistant pastor, in charge:

Program Given

Violin solos, Carl Olson; "Built On a Rock" and "Bless the Lord", two vocal numbers by the church choir under the direction of Mrs. James H. Fyvie; addresses by the Rev. Dr. P. O. Bersell, of Minneapolis, president emeritus of Augustana Lutheran Church, and the Rev. Palmer Nestander Chicago, a former pastor of Zion Lutheran. Mrs. Harry Ahlstrom was organist.

A reception in the church parlors followed the program. The serving table was centered by a large, three-tiered wedding cake flanked with red roses, and there were three-taper candelabra at each end of the table.

Here for the anniversary were the Herberts' two daughters, Miss Dorothy Herbert, Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. Alan Ingraham, of Madison, Wis., accompanied by her husband and two children, Susan and Robert.

Son Calls From California

A son, Dr. Wayne Herbert, of Whittier, Calif., was unable to attend but he telephoned and wired to extend his felicitations to his parents.

Besides congregations of the two churches, many friends from Manistique and other communities were present including the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Joshua Oden, of Chicago; the Rev. Clifford Peterson, of Gladstone, president of the Green Bay District, and his wife, and the Rev. and Mrs. Gustav Lund, Escanaba.

The Herberts were presented with numerous gifts and a purse of money.

They were married July 24, 1918, in Iron Mountain, their home community. Before her marriage Mrs. Herbert was Miss Marie Dahlstrom.

Over 1,200 Women Attend Homemakers Meeting Last Week

More than 1,200 Michigan women attended a state Homemakers Conference in East Lansing July 20-23, it is reported by Mrs. G. Leslie Bouschor, Schoolcraft County delegate at the session.

The group was housed in the new Shaw dormitory at Michigan State College, considered the largest dormitory in the world.

A total of 18 different class subjects was presented at the meeting.

Briefly Told

Recreation Board—The recreation board will meet Wednesday evening, July 29, at 7:30 in the city hall.

Prayer Circle—The Prayer Circle of the First Methodist Church will meet in the church Tuesday evening at 7:30.

DAV Meeting—A regular meeting of the Disabled American Veterans will be held Tuesday evening at the VFW building, N. Maple Ave., beginning at 8.

Lady Foresters—The Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will hold its annual picnic Tuesday evening at the Indian Lake State Park. A pot luck lunch will be served. All members are asked to meet at the parochial school basement between 6 and 6:30. Anyone desiring transportation is asked to call Mrs. Peter Rozich.

HERBERTS HONORED—The Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Herbert were honored at their 35th wedding anniversary July 24 by congregations of Zion Lutheran Church, Manistique, and Bethany Lutheran Church, Isabella. Shown above

One Seriously Hurt In Crash

Frank Zalac, 46, of 185 Gerald Ave., Highland Park, suffered serious injuries when a panel station wagon in which he was a passenger skidded on wet pavement and rolled over twice at 6:45 Saturday morning on US-2, 3 1/2 miles east of the Schoolcraft-Mackinac county line.

Manistique state police reported Saturday that Zalac suffered a punctured lung, broken ribs and a fractured back. He was taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

The station wagon, traveling west, was driven by Edmund LaFleur, 35, of 224 DeVillien, Royal Oak. Also in the vehicle were LaFleur's wife and three children. Neither the driver nor members of his family were injured except for a slight hand scratch sustained by one of the children.

State police said the LaFleurs and Zalac were enroute to Escanaba where the LaFleurs have relatives. The LaFleurs continued to Escanaba from Manistique in another car later Saturday.

The station wagon was almost completely demolished, police reported.

The accident was the first personal injury mishap in the Manistique area since July 4.

Social

For Miss Schweikert

Miss Margaret Burgess, of Chicago, entertained at a tea recently at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Burgess, 330 Walnut St., in honor of Miss Doris Schweikert, who is to be married on Aug. 8 to Charles William Norman, of Plymouth. Miss Schweikert is the daughter of the George Schweikerts, 417 Arbutus Ave.

Guests numbering 18 were served from a table covered with gold embroidered linen. Centering the table was a silver basket bowl of shasta daisies and syringa. In a dome-shaped roof over the table four small white bells and one larger white bell were suspended. To each bell was affixed a white ribbon rosette, and the four smaller bells were connected with loops of white satin ribbon. From each of the four smaller bells white streamers fell to the four corners of the table where they were affixed to white ribbon rosettes.

A variety of dainty, small sandwiches were served, including golden open-faced sandwiches from two silver heart-shaped trays. Tiny biscuits with creamed chicken, small cookies and mints completed the tea menu. Miss Burgess poured for her guests.

Gifts were arranged in a large wishing well decked with artificial yellow climbing roses. Guests, assigned numbers corresponding to numbers on various gift packages, drew the packages from the well and presented them to Miss Schweikert.

Abel Buell, the Connecticut cartographer, engraved the first map of America after the Revolution. He also dabbled in counterfeiting and served time in jail for altering 5-shilling notes.

Malloy's Lead Twilight Loop

With only eight more rounds to play, the Malloy team is leading the men's twilight league at the Indian Lake golf course with a total of 112 points, it was announced following competition Thursday evening by Ernest Eckland, league chairman.

Other standings in the loop follow: Tigers, 94; IGA, 89; C-L, 87; Papermakers, 85; Inland, 81.

Twilight league competition started May 21 and will be concluded on Sept. 17. Some time later members of the three losing teams will sponsor a dinner for the winners.

Between 50 and 70 men participate in league competition every Thursday evening.

Stress Need For On-Farm Storage

The need for additional on-farm storage is greater than ever this year, it is reported by Leonard T. England, Germfask, chairman of the Schoolcraft County PMA committee.

The anticipated storage need is predicted on the June 1 crop report of the Michigan Cooperative Crop Reporting Service which indicated a production of 39,379,000 bushels of 1953 crop winter wheat, England said.

The PMA chairman said considerable concern is being shown by warehousemen and officials of the Department of Agriculture in regard to the storage and handling of this large crop. Commercial storage warehousemen in many localities admit they have never been able to store all the grain which producers wish to deliver at harvest time, he pointed out.

Producers having 1953 crop wheat and oats which will be harvested within the next few weeks were reminded by England that in order to avail themselves of the price support program it may be necessary for them to store the grain on the farm.

Producers also were reminded that if immediate funds are not available for the purchase of granaries or grain bins, acceptable storage structures may be financed up to 80 per cent of total cost through a government loan program.

These loans may be financed for four years, payable in annual installments at four per cent. Producers interested in this type of loan should contact the local PMA office, 159 River St., Manistique, without further delay.

England has cautioned producers to study the current market price as compared with the current support price for the 1953 crop wheat. The current spread between market and support prices will nearly pay the cost of a storage structure, he pointed out.

Although the eruption of Mount Katmai in Alaska in 1912 may have been the most violent volcanic eruption in history, no human life was lost because of the remote location of the volcano.

Charles Bush Is Transferred To Grand Haven Post

Transfer of Trooper Charles Bush to Grand Haven, effective Aug. 10, has been announced at the Manistique state police post.

Trooper Clyde A. Marquardt, of the Grand Haven post, will be transferred to the Manistique post.

Trooper Marquardt, who is married and has two children, is associated with his father in the ownership of a cabin at Barque Point, south of Thompson, and is known to many persons in this area.

Trooper Bush has been stationed at the Manistique post since March 4, 1948. His wife is the former Arlene Curley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Curley, Manistique.

Women's Golf Play Begins

Field Of 43 Tees Off In U.P. Competition

A field of 43 women, representing six golf clubs, teed off in the annual Upper Peninsula Women's Golf Association tournament at Highland Club course at 10 a. m. today.

Qualifying rounds will be fired today with the first matches scheduled to open play at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow. The tournament will continue through Thursday.

A picnic supper will be held at the club at 6:30 this evening and a board of directors meeting will be held at 8. The tournament banquet is scheduled for 7 p. m. Tuesday.

The host Highland Club sent 27 members into tournament action today, topping by far the list of entries. Other clubs represented were Escanaba Country Club, Gladstone, Marquette, Iron Mountain and Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

Following is the entry list by clubs:

Highland—Pat Anderson, Victoria Beck, Mugs Beauchamp, Marie Brunelle, Alice Call, Marian Deslets, Margaret Douglas, Doris Fitzpatrick, Martha Friets, Gladys Hansen, Sarah Hirm, Helen Johnson, Carolyn Johnson, Eileen Kroll, Blanch LaCrosse, Helene LaPorte, Helen Martin, Virginia McMeekan, Irene Murray, Kate Nelson, Elaine Nelson, Agnes Oberg, Carolyn Olson, Bernice Riley, Lorraine Teal and Marie Wicklander.

Escanaba—Dorothy Anderson, Millie Boyce, Harriett Fitzharris, Irene Hogan, Charlotte Harvey, Barbara Jensen, Rosemary LeMire, Marge LeMire, Ruth Owens and Bernice Stuart.

Gladstone—Alice Altess and Dorothy Coulter.

Marquette—Jackie Specker.

Iron Mountain—Vi Tomassoni.

Soo, Ontario—Ellen Best and Jean McNelis.

The tournament is the first staged for the Upper Peninsula Women's Golf Association. Co-chairmen are Gladys Hansen and Martha Friets.

Missing from the field is defending champion Millie Johnson of Marquette. Miss Johnson won the 1952 championship at the Iron River Country Club, but was unable to defend her title because of injured finger suffered recently.

The only Escanaba boat in the four-day race this year, Lucky Star was skippered by Mitchell with John Anthony, Russell Johnson and Emerson Kidd serving as crew.

PRAMS TO RACE
The sixth of the series of pram races will be held at the Yacht Club Harbor this evening at 6:30. Boats will be handicapped if skippers request it, and Dr. Roy Banks will serve as starter.

Lucky Star finished second or third on corrected time in each of the four legs of the race except for the closely-contested Washington Island to Ephraim leg on Tuesday. The craft finished in third place for the series. Cynosure IV, Appleton, Wis., won first place, the first visitor to win the Cruising Division cup since 1950. There have been no contestants

Tiger Tales
Detroit (AP)—Overheard in Briggs Stadium:
A crowd of 49,717—the largest of the season—turned out to see the Tigers look like world champions in the opener, and then like the Tigers in the nightcap. It pushed the season's home attendance to 610,653.

Briggs Stadium continues to be a shooting gallery. A total of 116 homers have been hit in the Tigers' home park. 78 by the opposition and only 38 by the Detroiters.

Yesterday's Stars
By The Associated Press
Batting—Daryl Spencer, Giants—hammered two home runs, one with the bases loaded to lead the Giants to a 10-6 first game triumph over Cincinnati. The Giants also won the second game, 5-1.

Pitching—Virgil Trucks, White Sox—hurled a four-hit 4-0 shutout over Philadelphia to give Chicago a split in the doubleheader after the Athletics had won the opener 4-3.

Wallace Forfeits To Bark River, Drops Out Of Loop

Perronville 6, Carney 3
Bark River 9, Wallace 0 (forfeit)

Wallace, the Tri County League baseball team that came out on the short end of last week's protest meeting, failed to show up for its game with Bark River yesterday and forfeited the contest to the league leading Barks.

Still Undefeated
The forfeit win kept Bark River's undefeated record intact. Manager Joe Rademacher's Barks, eyeing an unprecedented unbeaten record in league play, has an 11-0 record to date and will play two more games this season. They entertain Foster City Aug. 2 and Powers Aug. 9.

Powers moved into sole possession of second place in the standings by defeating Foster City 7-3 yesterday. The clubs were tied for second going into the game.

Powers put across six runs in a big first inning to cinch the victory behind Ray Wells who went the distance on the mound. Johnson and Harold Charlevoix shared mound duty for Foster City and were wild. Four walks and a hit batter helped Powers to its huge initial inning.

Hermansville hit a stumbling block in its drive for a playoff position by suffering a 4-2 upset at the hands of Daggett. It was only the third victory of the season for the Daggett club.

Hermansville had a 2-0 lead going into the seventh inning before Daggett bunched hits off Dave Hallgren to wrest the lead. Perronville moved up to a tie for third with Foster City by tripping cellar-dwelling Carney-Nadeau 6-3 behind three-hit pitching by Tippy Legault. He helped his own cause with a three-run homer in the seventh inning as Perronville reached Kosakowski for eight hits.

Perronville reached Kosakowski for eight hits.

Ed Oliver Wins At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver left for the All America Men's Professional golf tournament opening at Chicago this week $3,000 richer and with his first victory in four tries in the Kansas City Open.

Oliver, the chubby good natured man from Palm Springs, Calif., set a tournament record here of 269, nineteen strokes over Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.

Porky, who holds the Milburn Country Club record of 10 under par 62 set in 1950, fired the last round Sunday in 65. Furgol hit a 67 for 271. He and Oliver had started the final round two strokes over Earl Stewart Jr., Dallas, and Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y.

Stewart's 71 put him in third place with 273, but Ford soared to a 75 and finished in a tie with Leland Gibson, Kansas City, for eight and ninth places, each with 275.

The top 30 players here qualified for the All America meet at Chicago.

PGA champion Walter Burkemo, New Franklin, Mich., failed to qualify for the last two rounds.

Lloyd Mangrum, the 1950 champion from Niles, Ill., played the final round in 70 and finished in a three way tie with Jim Turney, Briarcliff, N. Y., and Bo Wimmer, Oklahoma City, for fourth.

Batts Takes Full Blame For Fight
DETROIT (AP)—Catcher Matt Batts of the Detroit Tigers takes full blame for his brief fight with Billy Martin, second baseman of the New York Yankees.

The two clashed in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader, after Martin was tagged out at home plate trying to score from first on a double.

"He tagged me twice and then hit me in the nose with the ball," Martin said.

"I guess that's right," said Batts. "I lost my head and struck him on the nose. I guess I was just fed up with the way things were going."

"It wasn't Martin's fault and I'm sorry," Batts said.

It was Martin's fourth scuffle in the last two years. He had tangled twice with Clint Courtney, St. Louis Browns catcher, and with Jim Piersall, outfielder on the Boston Red Sox.

ALL STAR PRACTICE
Little League All Stars will practice at 6:30 this evening at the league diamond. The All Stars enter tournament play at Stevens Point, Wis., Thursday.

By JACK HAND
COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Baseball's Hall of Fame opens its gates to Dizzy Dean and Al Simmons today as the new members' plaques are dedicated.

George Trautman, president of the National Association of Minor Leagues, is the principal speaker at the ceremonies, held in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum.

After the dedication, the notables were scheduled to attend the annual major league exhibition game down the street at Doubleday Field. This year's game sends the Chicago White Sox against the Cincinnati Reds.

Birthplace of Baseball
Cooperstown, a friendly village on Otsego Lake, was proclaimed the birthplace of baseball by a commission appointed in 1905. Abner Doubleday was supposed to have invented and named the game in the town in 1839.

In addition to Dean and Simmons other members of the Hall of Fame due to make an appearance were Connie Mack, Ty Cobb, Ed Walsh, Cy Young and, of course, Rogers Hornsby, manager of Cincinnati.

Dean and Simmons were elected to the Hall of Fame in January by the 10-year members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. They were the 63rd and 64th players so honored.

Great Mound Career
Although Dean's career was shortened by arm trouble, he was a real flash when he had it. From 1930 to 1941 the colorful right-hander won 150 and lost 83 games. He hit his peak with the St. Louis Cards' "Gas House Gang" in 1934 when he compiled a 30-7 record. No pitcher has won 30 since, although the Phil's Robin Roberts threatens to make it this year. Dean, only 42, now is a radio and TV announcer.

Simmons, one of the great stars of Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics from 1924 to 1933, finished his career with a lifetime .334 batting average. He won the American League batting championship in 1930 and 1931. The slugger with the unorthodox "foot in the bucket" stance, played with several club in the league, strayed to the National with Cincinnati and wound up back with the A's in 1944. He has been out of baseball since he resigned as Cleveland coach in 1951.

Stanky Fines Himself $50 For Bat Mixup
ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis Cardinal Manager Eddie Stanky said today he has fined himself $50 for permitting a batting mixup Friday night against the Philadelphia Phillies.

The money goes into a team fund.

Stanky returned here by air ahead of the team to get treatment for a lame back and a cold.

Stephenson Trips Cubs In Pitchers' Battle
Stephenson made it three straight over the Escanaba Cubs here yesterday by besting Coach Al Ness' youthful club 4-1 in a tight pitchers' battle at the City Diamond.

Right-hander Jim Strohl scattered four hits from the Stephenson hill and fanned two while issuing four walks. He was extremely effective with men on base and the Cubs found seven men stranded.

John Berrigan matched Strohl's four-hitter and fanned 13 while walking two. The Cub hurler gave up two of the hits, and two runs, in the first inning. A double by third baseman Erickson drove in both runs.

Dave Viau, Cubs centerfielder, connected for two of the four hits off Strohl. Billy Goodreau scored the Escanaba run in the third inning after walking.

Two Braves Tangle In Fistic Clash
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Pitcher Vern Bickford and shortstop Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves got into a fight in a Brooklyn grill Saturday night, but peace was restored quickly, Manager Charlie Grimm said here Sunday night.

"Their tempers boiled over about something and a bit of a fight started," Grimm explained when asked about a report in a New York newspaper.

"But they shook hands and everything is all right."

Bickford, who has been assigned to the bullpen after five years as a regular starter, had a slightly discolored eye Sunday. There were no marks on Logan.

The fiber helmets worn under jockeys' silk caps were introduced to American racing by Col. Edward R. Bradley.

Louisville Misses Big Chance To Gain
(By The Associated Press)
The Louisville Colonels split a doubleheader with Columbus Sunday, thus missing an opportunity to shake Toledo for the American Association's runnerup spot.

The Colonels won the first game 9-4 and lost the nightcap 2-1. That left them 1½ games behind the league-leading Indianapolis Indians and one percentage point ahead of Toledo.

Indianapolis' doubleheader with St. Paul was rained out as was Toledo's twin bill with Minneapolis. In the only other Association activity Sunday, Charleston and Kansas City split, the Senators taking the first game 8-7 and the Blues the second 5-0.

Lopez Picks Right Men For Pinch Roles
CLEVELAND (AP)—Manager Al Lopez may be having his difficulties with the Cleveland Indians, but he's calling the right turn on the Tribe's pinch-hitters.

Lopez sent five pinch-batters to the plate in Sunday's doubleheader against the Washington Senators and four connected safely.

They were Luke Easter, Larry Doby, Hank Majeski and Bob Lemon. Dave Hoskins was the only one who failed to deliver.

Ironwood Hurler Star Of Legion Tournament
BAY CITY (AP)—Paced by Dick Abel's hefty hitting, Detroit Edison Post 187 won Michigan's American Legion baseball crown Sunday with a 19-4 victory over Ironwood.

Abel socked a triple, double and two singles in the 18-hit attack. The Edison post won the double elimination series over four other district titlists by winning four of five games.

Seven Ironwood errors helped the Detroiters in their final victory. The winning pitcher was Bernie Ballelli, who relieved Jim Francisco in the third.

The Hazen S. (Kiki) Cuyler Most Valuable Player award went to Ironwood pitcher Pat Cven-gros.

The 17-year-old Ironwood pitcher hurled successive six-hitters against Bay City and Grand Rapids on Friday night and Saturday afternoon, fanning 32 men in that time.

Ironwood gambled on him again Sunday, but the three-in-a-row chore was too much and Cven-gros was tagged for four hits and three runs in the first inning.

Cven-gros was lifted as a pitcher after that inning, but caught the rest of the game. To further show his versatility, Cven-gros had played first base in the only Ironwood game in which he did not pitch.

Cartier Returns To Boxing Ring Tonight
NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Cartier, suspended three months for holding in a London bout with Randy Turpin, gets back into action tonight at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway in a 10-round middleweight go with Garth Panter of Salt Lake City.

Cartier has a 39-8-1 record with 38 knockouts and Panter has scored 25 knockouts in a 50-11 career. Panter lost to Lee Sala, June 29, in his last out.

The bout will be televised in some sections of the country.

Make New Rule For Hall of Fame Men
COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Starting next year, a player, manager, coach or umpire will have to be out of baseball five years before he becomes eligible for election to the Hall of Fame.

The National Hall of Fame Committee decided Sunday to lengthen the waiting period from one to five years. The exception will be the eight players who have received more than 100 votes in previous balloting. The list includes Joe DiMaggio, Bill Dickey, Ted Lyons, Bill Terry, Rabbit Maranville, Dazzy Vance, Chief Bender and Gabby Hartnett.

The rule was passed to avoid any repetition of the "popularity contest" which garnered DiMaggio more than 100 votes last year.

tom of the third inning and stayed ahead the remainder of the game. The contest was marked by five homers. Wally Morin, James Clement and Tubby Lester hit four-baggers for Garden while Wayne VanRemortel and Anderson homered for Fayette.

Jack Morin tossed the win, allowing six hits and fanning seven. Anderson went the distance for the losers.

Manistique won its 10th league game with Don Carlson posting his fifth shutout on a five-hitter. Carlson fanned 15 and walked one.

Orville Olson also gave up only five hits from the Cooks mound. He whiffed seven but walked five and hit two batsmen.

Seven-run Fourth
The Cardinals broke loose with seven runs in the bottom of the fourth, combining three hits, a walk, two errors and two fielder's choices for the payoff.

Carlson was in trouble once in the sixth with the bases loaded and none out. He fanned H. Carley and Swagart was picked off third. He then struck out Olson to retire the side.

Olson led Cooks at the plate

Key Softball Clash At Herb Kipke Night
A key battle in the closing stage of the Escanaba American League softball race will highlight the "Herb Kipke Night" program tonight at Memorial Field diamond.

The windup, starting at 8:45, will match the Harnischfeger league leaders against Paper Mill. The Mill must win tonight to retain any chance of catching the front-running Harnies in the pennant chase. A win for the Harnies tonight will wrap up the 1953 pennant.

The opener at 7:15 will see the Merchants seeking revenge from Hyde, upstart club that handed the top division Merchants a startling upset last week.

Pierpon To Pitch
Harnischfeger will undoubtedly call on John Pierpon for tonight's pitching chore against Paper Mill. Pierpon has successfully turned back the challenge of all the best clubs in the league this season.

The doubleheader program will honor the Michigan state softball commissioner and there will be no admission charge. Paul Vardigan, Escanaba commissioner, stated that the free gate expresses the appreciation of the Softball Association for excellent fan support this season.

Kipke To Tour U. P.
Kipke arrived here over the weekend and will conduct a tour of the softball centers of the Upper Peninsula. While here he will also help lay plans for the Class A men's tournament finals to be held at Memorial Field over Labor Day weekend.

In last night's exhibitions, Holmgren Motors of Ishpeming split in a pair of games with Paper Mill and Harnischfeger. The visitors defeated Paper Mill 5-3, scoring all five runs in a fat first inning. Make tossed the win against Paul Larson.

The Harnies scored in every inning to defeat Holmgrens 10-0 in the nightcap. Vern Johnson tossed a three-hitter for the Harnies who were led to a 13-hit plate attack by Lowell LaPlant, Joe Ricci and Elroy Zimmerman.

Star At Plate, Dyck Commits Four Errors
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Jim Dyck stood out both at bat and afield in Sunday's doubleheader against the Boston Red Sox. But he'd prefer to remember only his offensive performance.

The husky St. Louis Browns third baseman banged out five hits, three of them homers, and drove in six runs.

In the field, Jim made four errors during the twin-bill.

White Sox Pace Falls Off But Trucks Wins

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer
Chicago's slowed-up White Sox, despite a disappointing home stand, represented the chief threat to the New York Yankees' bid for a fifth straight pennant today. And they owe it to one man—pitcher Virgil Trucks.

Thanks to Trucks' four-hit 4.0 shutout over Philadelphia after the Athletics had taken a 4-3 opener, the White Sox were able to keep 5½ games behind the Yankees, who split a pair with Detroit.

Just two weeks ago the White Sox began a 12-game home stand confident they could whittle off part of the slump-ridden Yankees' five-game margin. The Yanks won only 7 out of 13 games, but Chicago fared even worse, taking only 6 of 12. Trucks won half of those games by scores of 4-1, 1-0 and 4-0. The 34-year-old right-hander has won eight games without a defeat since joining the White Sox from St. Louis.

All Clubs Split
While all American League clubs were dividing double-headers, the Brooklyn Dodgers opened up a huge 7½-game lead in the National, thrashing the Milwaukee Braves twice 3-2 and 2-1 before 33,421 cheering fans—the largest Ebbets Field gathering in almost two years.

The bewildered Braves retained second place only because St. Louis' Cardinals whipped Philadelphia's third-place Phillies 8-6 to leave the Phils eight games off the pace. New York's fourth-place Giants remained 9½ games behind despite their sweep of a double-header from Cincinnati 10-6 and 5-1. The Cards are in fifth place, 11 games from the top.

The Boston Red Sox missed an opportunity to close in on the Yankees, losing the second game to St. Louis 8-5 after copping the opener 7-5. They remained in third place, 7½ behind New York and a half game in front of Cleveland, which came from behind to nip Washington 7-6 after the Senators had won the opener 4-3.

Cubs Break Even
The double-header between Chicago and Pittsburgh also ended in a split with the Cubs winning the second game 7-3 after the Pirates had eked out a 3-2 triumph.

Gus Zernial's bases-loaded single with two out in the eighth broke a 2-2 tie and gave the Athletics their first game 4-3 victory over Chicago.

Washington scored twice in the ninth to come from behind and defeat the Indians in the opener. Singles by Gil Coan and Mickey Vernon, an error by catcher Joe Ginsberg and two long flies gave Bob Porterfield the victory over relief pitcher Art Houtteman. Homers by Wally Westlake and Bobby Avila gave the Indians the second-game victory after Washington had taken a 6-0 lead over Mike Garcia.

Three Home Runs
Jim Dyck's third home run of the day scored three runs for the Browns in the seventh and broke a 5-5 second-game tie. The Red Sox took advantage of four

Athletics Boast Edge On Chicago White Sox

By TOM BRANAGAN
CHICAGO — Even Jimmy Dykes wonders why his Philadelphia Athletics find the Chicago White Sox such an easy mark.

"I can't explain it," Dykes said Sunday after his sixth-place Athletics split a doubleheader with the Sox, winning 4-3, then losing 4-0.

The second-game victory, engineered by Virgil Trucks' four-hitter and home runs by Minnie Minoso and Jim Rivera, was the lone Sox win in a four-game series with the Athletics.

In 15 games between the clubs this season, the Athletics have won 10. They're the only team in the American League—including the leading New York Yankees—who have a 1953 advantage over the White Sox, who are the league's second-place club 5½ games back of the Yanks.

"No Whammy"
"Now, don't go and say we've got a whammy on the Sox," said Dykes. "There isn't any such thing."

"And we definitely don't have a better ball club than Chicago."

"What can you say? I guess we

Five Ex-Chixos
Now five of his regulars—shortstop Joe Demaestri, first baseman Eddie Robinson, second baseman Cass Michaels, and outfielders Gus Zernial and Dave Philley—are ex-White Sox players.

They were largely responsible for Philadelphia's three straight victories in the current series. Robinson hit a two-run homer and Zernial drove in the other two runs with a bases-loaded single in Sunday's opening-game victory. Saturday, Zernial and Michaels homered and Philley hit a three-run triple as the A's won 7-2. The A's won 4-2 Friday with Michaels' two-run roundtripper in the 12th inning the payoff blow.

Brownie errors and made their seven hits count in their first-game victory to overshadow Dyck's two home runs.

The Yankees exploded seven doubles and four home runs to crush the Tigers in the second game before 49,717 fans at Briggs Stadium. Detroit won the opener behind the sparkling relief pitching of rookie Bob Miller and Billy Hoefft. The latter fanned Andy Carey and Gil McDougald with the bases loaded in the eighth inning to clinch the 18-year-old Miller's first major league triumph.

A three-run, eighth-inning rally against Johnny Antonelli in the first game and Carl Erskine's five-hit pitching in the second gave Brooklyn a sweep of a twin bill with Milwaukee. Erskine fanned 10 for the second straight time in registering his 10th victory.

Spencer Plate Star
Larry Jansen pitched a six-hitter for the Giants after rookie Darryl Spencer had driven in five runs in the opener with a pair of homers, the second coming with the bases loaded in the seventh inning to snap a 5-5 tie.

Stan Musial's three-run homer in the sixth offset two home runs by Philadelphia's Del Ennis and enabled the Cardinals to salvage the finale of their three-game series with the Phillies. Curt Simmons lost his fourth game in five decisions since his return following recovery from a foot injury.

A four-run fifth gave the Cubs a split after Pittsburgh had tallied twice in the ninth to win the opener. Shortstop Roy Smalley's bobble of Eddie O'Brien's slow roller presented the Bucs with the winning run.

Trooper Perry Is Transferred

Trooper Glenn Perry of the Gladstone Post, Michigan State Police, is being transferred to the East Lansing Post, effective August 10. Trooper Perry has served at the local post since May, 1948. It was his first assignment after finishing the MSP school.

Coming to Gladstone next month will be Trooper Edward Lenon who for the past 5 or 6 years has been at Flat Rock. Previous to serving at the Flat Rock post Trooper Lenon was at Marquette for a short time.

No replacement has been named for Trooper William Shideler who entered service about a month ago, and the complement of the local post is at its lowest point since World War II days. Others stationed here are Sgt. Ed Goldsworthy, post commander, Cpl. Michael Lalich and Troopers Ray Anderson, Robert Peterson, George Craft and Francis Desjardis.

LOS ANGELES — A lawsuit in which it was alleged a bus wheel rested eight minutes on a 9-year-old girl's foot was settled Thursday for $24,000.

Mrs. Laura A. Pogue, widowed mother of Karen Pogue, had sued the Los Angeles Transit Lines for $350,000. The complaint said the bus struck the girl Oct. 13, 1951, and that the driver, Mrs. Forrestine G. Long, said company rules forbade her to move the bus until a company supervisor arrived.

Two of the child's toes had to be amputated.

Excess Profits Act Explained

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY WASHINGTON (CQ)—The excess profits tax, which the Eisenhower Administration has held to be a necessary evil for six months more, is one of the most controversial and little known of our federal levies. Here are its basic facts:

Who pays it—Less than 12 per cent of the nation's 424,000 corporations with taxable income.

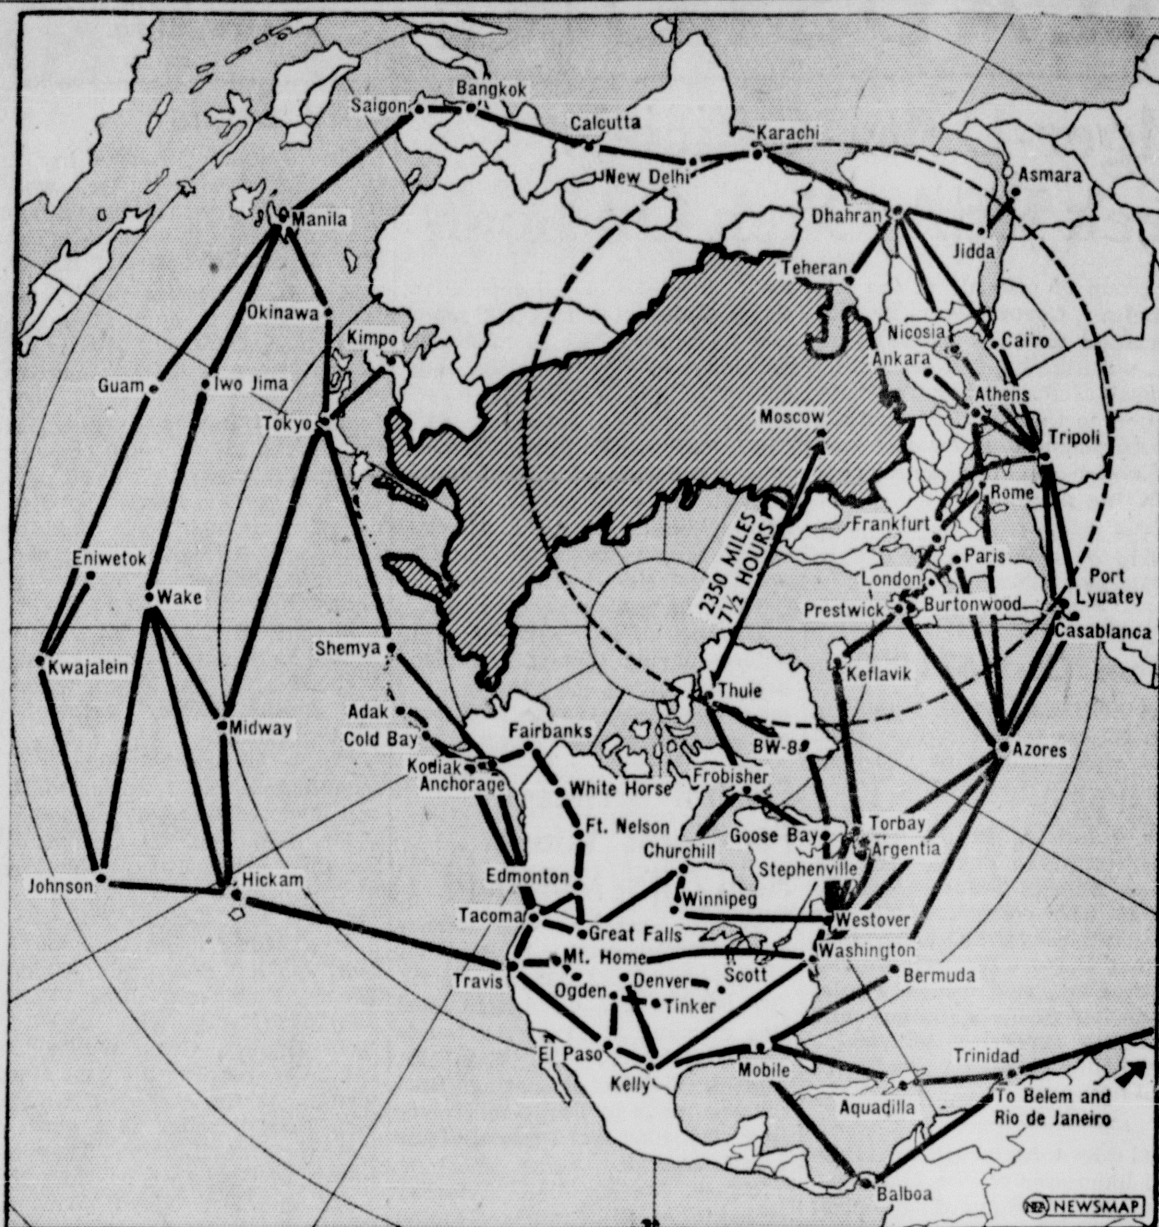

How much money would be raised by a six-months extension—About $800 million would be added to the government's till in fiscal 1954.

How do corporations compute the tax—They figure earnings during 1946 through 1949 and report average earnings during the three most profitable years of that stretch. Eighty-three per cent of that average is "normal profit." Congress decided. Earnings over that amount are liable to the excess profits tax of 30 per cent. This is on top of regular corporate income taxes.

What is the purpose of the EPT—It was designed to limit the profits of businesses involved in defense work.

What percentage of corporation tax receipts comes from the EPT—The Ways and Means Committee estimated $2 billion out of a total take of $23 billion in corporate taxes come from the excess profits levy. That's about 8.7 per cent.

About 16 per cent of the earth's land surface is in the continent of North America.

WINGS AROUND RUSSIA—The sun never sets on the operations of the Military Air Transport Service, better known as MATS. The vast, global extent of the operations of the armed forces' cargo-carrying branch can be seen in the map. From Thule, Greenland, our farthest-north base, it is only 7½ hours to Moscow, and many MATS bases in Europe and Africa are closer than that. All MATS bases are potential bomber bases. MATS was formed only five years ago. Its first big test came with the Berlin airlift. Every hour of every day a MATS plane takes off or lands at one of the many bases that gird Communist Russia and her satellites.

Saginaw Polio Victims Build Home In 8 Years

SAGINAW (P)—Eight years ago Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morton began building their own home. If all goes well the Saginaw accountant and his family hope to move into the completed house this month.

Eight years could be considered a long time to build a house. But the Mortons are both victims of infantile paralysis.

Morton, stricken with polio at the age of 13 months, devised a special steel cart to enable him to move around during the construction. His wife, a polio victim since she was four, relied on the cart.

The cart enables Morton to raise his body to difficult places where his legs, encumbered by steel braces, could not go.

The house, started in 1945, has a living room, three bedrooms, a kitchen, a bath, and a garage. Friends helped Morton in the rough work. But Morton and his wife had their hands in on every phase of construction.

The going was never easy. It was doubly hard last May when Morton's elder son, Clifford, 9, came down with rheumatic fever. In addition to his regular job and the house building, the Mortons found time to visit their son in the hospital. Often the two worked until 1:30 a. m. to make progress on the house.

The Mortons have two other children, Kenneth, 7, and Linda, 3. Morton had no previous building experience. He learned by doing and by consulting an occasional textbook.

Californian Visits Detroit Jail, Gets Tossed Behind Bars

DETROIT (P)—William R. Watson of Sunland, Calif., was formerly a deputy sheriff here. He came to Detroit to pick up a new car and decided to visit his old cronies at the county jail. It was quite a reunion. Watson was welcomed with open arms—and tossed behind bars.

It developed that he was $7,370 behind in alimony payments to his first wife, who lives here. In Circuit Court Thursday, the judge said Watson would have to put up $5,000 bond if he wanted to go back to California to raise some money to pay the alimony.

Small Boys Take Detroit Trip With 1,333 Half Dollars

DETROIT (P)—Two small boys, struggling with a heavy suitcase, attracted the attention of Detroit police early today in the waiting room of the city bus station.

The boys, Kenneth Kovacic, 12, and Allen Barnes, 13, wearily put down the suitcase and told police they were from Parma, a suburb of Cleveland.

Police opened the heavy suitcase. Underneath soiled T-shirts they found 1,333 silver half-dollars.

The boys said they left home Thursday night to see the world. "I just sort of borrowed the money from my father without him knowing," Kenneth said. "He's been saving silver half dollars for three years."

Kenneth also displayed a new watch he purchased with 60 of the half-dollars.

The boys thought Detroit was an unfriendly town.

"We tried to get a room at a downtown hotel," they said, "but the clerk looked at us, and told us to go home."

Police lodged the boys in the Juvenile Detention Home and asked Cleveland authorities to notify Kenneth's father to come and get them and the $666.50 remaining of his silver half-dollars.

Gambling Grandmas Nabbed In Chicago

CHICAGO (P)—Deputy sheriffs raided a Northwest Side tavern Thursday and filled a bus-hired especially for the occasion—with 47 persons, many of them women they identified as "gambling grandmas."

The raiders, who said the tavern was a horse betting handbook, said some of the women complained they were too old and too tired to step into the bus. They were charged with disorderly conduct and released on $10 bond pending hearings.

Usually regarded as an industrial state, Connecticut is the second highest state in the nation in the value per acre of its farm products—$112.

Fund Of 200 Million To Be Requested For Korea Rehabilitation

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower and Republican congressional leaders decided to seek an initial fund of 200 million dollars for rehabilitation of Korea after the armistice.

The decision was reached at a White House breakfast meeting. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge sat in with the President and the Republican law makers for the 90-minute session.

House Speaker Martin said, plans already are under way for rehabilitation of the war-torn country.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), acting majority leader of the Senate, predicted at a news conference that a request for the initial 200 million dollar fund will be approved by Congress before it adjourns.

He expressed confidence that adjournment will come by July 31 despite a considerable list of bills on which Eisenhower wants action.
